

GOVERNOR DRAPER

Issues a Statement on Sale of "Slightly Infected" Beef

BOSTON, March 2.—Gov. Draper, in a statement regarding the sale of "slightly infected" beef, issued last evening, declared that 14 per cent. of all the beef sold in Massachusetts is slaughtered without United States government inspection, and that this 14 per cent. is killed under the supervision of local inspectors.

The governor has gone into the matter pretty thoroughly during the last few days, and yesterday he and Dr. Austin C. Peters of the cattle bureau were closeted together for some time discussing the various phases of it. Gov. Draper's statement, in part, is:

"For the last three or four days there have been articles appearing in one of the Boston newspapers in regard to the selling of infected or tubercular beef to the people. Some of the articles have been written in a very sensational way and are calculated to do much harm.

"The bulk of all the beef sold in this commonwealth is dressed and inspected before it is sold. Some of the authorities of the United States government, roughly speaking, 55 per cent. of all the meat sold or consumed in Massachusetts comes in as dressed beef from outside the state.

"This leaves only 45 per cent. of all the beef sold or consumed in the state killed at local slaughter houses. These quarters of this 45 per cent. killed in local slaughter houses is killed under United States government inspection. This leaves about 14-1 per cent. of all the beef used or sold in the state which is not slaughtered under government inspection. This 14 per cent. is slaughtered under the supervision of local inspectors.

"These local inspectors are appointed

Lowell People Flock To the Kickapoos

Last Week of the Demonstration At Dows' Drug Store

The immense sale of Sagwa and the other Kickapoo Remedies continues to increase. Monday and Tuesday Dows' drug store was packed with people all trying to get trial bottles of the Sagwa and talk with our representative. It is the same way in every city where we make our demonstrations. The Sagwa sells because it really cures diseases of the stomach and liver. The following is what people say who have taken Sagwa.

Mr. John Schofield, 634 Birch street, Fall River, Mass., makes the following important statement and gives us the right to publish his statement:

"I was in bed two months with La Grippe. I consulted Dr. A. H. La Grippe. I prescribed the only medicine that I have taken. The ailments started with a cold, then turned into La Grippe of the worst form. Within one week after I began to use Sagwa I noticed a change for the better. My La Grippe quickly disappeared. The Sagwa cured me absolutely. Altogether I used six bottles. I consider myself permanently cured. I have also taken Sagwa for run down condition. I am willing that these facts should be published.

The above is convincing because it is a simple, straightforward and honest statement of plain facts.

Here is another convincing testimonial from Mrs. C. B. Vickery of 35 Academy street, Fall River, Mass.:

"In gratitude I wish to acknowledge the benefit I have received from the use of Kickapoo Sagwa. I have had stomach trouble for many years, but the last six months I grew worse than ever. My food distressed me. My stomach would fill up with gas, causing the most excruciating pain through my chest, back, and sides, and also affecting my heart. In fact, I became so bad that I was afraid to eat as it caused such stomach pains. I became very much depressed and discouraged, and thought I should either go crazy or soon die, as I had treated with many doctors and obtained only temporary relief, saying that mine was an incurable case of stomach trouble. No doctor seemed to know what the cause was. After that I tried many different remedies, in fact, all that I could learn of that I thought would benefit me. The result was that each remedy seemed to make me worse. I was then followed by attacks more severe than before. I was having a very severe attack of my trouble when, fortunately,

I saw the Kickapoo advertisement stating that you were giving free trial bottles of Sagwa to all who requested them. I decided to get one and use it. I felt a beneficial effect from the trial bottle. The medicine seemed to reach the right spot. I then bought a large size bottle of Kickapoo Sagwa and took the medicine according to directions, and found that I improved with every dose. I have now taken the contents of two large bottles and am feeling better than I have felt for several years. I grow stronger every day, and can truthfully say that I believe Kickapoo Sagwa has made a permanent cure. I eat well, sleep well, and digest my food well.

Still a third signed statement has been received by us, from a gentleman who resides in Somerset, Mass. Mr. John Gryn. It is worded as follows:

"Fifteen years ago I first learned about the wonderful properties of Kickapoo Sagwa. At that time I had been suffering more or less for ten years with kidney complaint. I had taken other remedies, but could not find a cure. I felt tired continually, had little or no appetite, could not sleep, was all worn out and suffered with a pain in the back. Just as soon as I began taking Sagwa, I noticed a change for the better. As I continued to take it, the pain gradually disappeared and I began to feel better in every way. Altogether I used only two bottles of Sagwa and yet I was completely cured. It was a permanent cure. I feel that I ought to publish this statement, because there are facts which cannot be denied.

"Can any 'doubting Thomas' continue to doubt after reading the three statements above? We have enough of such statements to give anybody a month's vacation, but the best thing that can be said about Kickapoo Sagwa is a bottle of the Sagwa itself. You will never know that it actually cures until you have the experience brought home to yourself. Go and get a bottle. It will be sold to you with an absolute guarantee. If not satisfactory, your money refunded. Then you will know absolutely of your own experience and not because somebody has told you that Sagwa does cure stomach, liver and kidney diseases and all other diseases.

If you wish to test Sagwa before purchasing, call at our nearest branch at Dows' drug store, and he will give you a free trial bottle. The Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Chittenden, Conn.

FAMOUS ARTIST WHO COLLAPSED

NEW YORK, March 2.—Henry Hutt, the artist whose pictures of fair women have spread his fame from one end of the country to another, is in a New York hospital suffering from collapse in a critical condition. Mr. Hutt fell on Broadway and was found to be suffering from acute hysteria when taken to the hospital. His malady is believed to have been caused by overwork. It was with difficulty that he told his name, and he was unable to tell his age or where he lived. Mr. Hutt attracted the attention of the American public nearly ten years ago through his pictures of women, and since that time his work has steadily increased in popular favor. His wife, whom he married in 1903, was the model of most of his sketches. He is thirty-four years old.

NO INVENTORY STILL NO TRACE

Freytag is Not Yet in Friends Searching for Office Joseph Letourneau

LAWRENCE, March 2.—The attempt to take an inventory of the public property department incidental to the succession of Oswald Freytag to Patrick J. Hennessy as superintendent was blocked yesterday afternoon by a majority of the committee on public property refusing to proceed until the question of the legality of Freytag's taking office without the acceptance of his bond had been settled. Aldermen Burris and Woolcock, Councilmen John J. McCarthy, E. A. McCarthy, Jr. and Knepper voting to postpone action, while Councilman Grunwald was with Mayor White in favor of immediate proceedings.

Meanwhile Supt. Hennessy refuses to relinquish the office, and he also acted in defense of himself in objecting to an inventory after a majority of the committee had opposed it. He declined to furnish the mayor with an inventory of the property.

In the assumption of office by City Treas. Daniel yesterday, Willis N. Tewksbury was made assistant city treasurer, and William Schneider, Albert Moss and Frank Burns were named clerks, succeeding Daniel P. Desmond, John P. Kane and Achille Proulx and Adolph Engstrand.

MAINE ELECTION

Only One Democratic Mayor Chosen

PORTLAND, Me., March 2.—Further gains were made by the republicans in the city elections held yesterday in Maine cities. Republican mayors were elected in nine of them, a gain of two over last year, and republican city governments in eight of them.

Saco was carried by the democratic combination, and Lewiston by the democrats as usual.

The last of sixteen cities of South Portland will be democratic, through the loss of one ward, but a republican mayor was elected.

The same cities two years ago chose seven democratic mayors and five democratic city governments. The democratic losses yesterday were in Rockland, a democratic stronghold, and in Bangor, which is ordinarily republican.

Five mayors re-nominated were accorded reelections.

The elections generally were quiet. The weather was fair and cold.

The following are the names of the mayors elected:

Auburn, Thayer L. Merrill, R; Bath, John S. Reed, R; Eastport, Walter J. Carr, R; Ellsworth, Frank F. Swenson, R; Gardiner, Charles H. Gray, R; Hallowell, Dana C. Stillins, R; Lewiston, Frank A. Merer, D; Rockland, Albert C. McLean, R; South Portland, Fred G. Hamilton, R; Saco, Elmer H. Merrill, D; Waterville, Frank Robinson, R. —Re-elected.

MAN KILLED

BY EXPLOSION IN KING POWDER WORKS

DASTON, Ohio, March 2.—An explosion rent the smokeless powder department of the King Powder works at Daston, Ohio, seven miles southeast of Lakewood, yesterday afternoon, and Walter Thompson of Lima, Ohio, the only man about the building at the time was killed.

Charles J. Miller, who made an unsuccessful attempt to be elected as partly of the school committee, has decided to give it another try this year and thinks that he stands a good show of winning. Joseph P. Meany and Sam H. Hutchins will also be candidates.

The Westport club is preparing to present The County Minister, in the town hall about the middle of the month.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—It is understood that Rear Admiral Sperry will file his application for relief from the command of the Atlantic battleship fleet with the next administration. He will remain in Washington for the inauguration.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The senate last night passed the house resolution creating a popular vote at the next general election on a constitutional amendment to provide equal suffrage.

The Lawrence Eagle yesterday had the following relative to the disappearance of Joseph Letourneau of this city: "Relatives and friends of Joseph Letourneau, the Lowell furniture merchant, who was last seen alive in this city Wednesday evening, are leaving no stone unturned in an effort to find him or to secure some trace of his whereabouts. There is strong suspicion of foul play.

He was last seen alive by Officer Patrick Casey of the local police force Wednesday night. Letourneau appeared at the office and asked him if he would accompany him to the home of Mrs. Wilfred Lagasse of 74 Holly street, saying that he had gone there to collect a bill but had been refused entrance. The officer told him that it was a case for the civil court and not for the police. Letourneau then went his way, going down Holly street in the direction of the Lagasse house.

He has not been seen since by any of his friends or relatives and they say that if he does not come back soon they will issue circulars bearing his description in an effort to locate him.

Letourneau's attorney, Lawyer Thomas of Lowell, the missing man's brother and a neighbor were in this city Sunday afternoon trying to secure a trace of the man. They were disappointed, however, and were forced to return to Lowell without the desired information.

Inspector Woodcock interviewed Mrs. Lagasse and the woman said that Letourneau had tried to get into her house Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, but that she would not let him in because, as she said, she thought he had been drinking and she was all alone. His friends, however, claim that he was not a drinking man.

Letourneau is 34 years of age. When leaving Lowell Wednesday he had $10 in his possession and a clairvoyant, a party of friends of Letourneau searched the Spicket river near Holly street Sunday afternoon. Saturday night they consulted a seer who said that they would find the body in the Spicket river in this city near Holly street. Sunday they came down in force and, securing a boat, spent several hours dragging the river bed. They were unsuccessful.

CRUM RESIGNS AS COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS AT CHARLESTON

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 2.—With the resignation of Dr. William D. Crum as collector of customs at this port, to take effect March 4, a situation which threatened to cause President Taft considerable embarrassment is avoided. No appointment made by President Roosevelt has given rise to more discussion than that of Dr. Crum, whose appointment was vigorously opposed because he is a negro. A long and hard fight against his confirmation was made by Sen. Tillman and others when he was first named in 1903, and within the last few weeks, and his appointment, Sen. Tillman conducted a successful filibuster against his confirmation.

Dr. Crum says that no pressure has been brought upon him now to cause him to resign, but that he does so in part because he wishes to save Mr. Taft from what he considers an embarrassing situation.

Dr. Crum is a native of South Carolina and is a member of the Republican party. He was appointed collector of customs at Charleston in 1903, and has since that time been a member of the Charleston board of health.

FIFTH REGIMENT TAFT MADE HERO

Given a Warm Welcome to Baltimore

BALTIMORE, March 2.—Members of 5th infantry, M. V. M., were a tired lot when they turned into quarters last night, many having got in only a few hours' sleep on board the Plymouth on the journey over the sound last night.

The hospitalities they received yesterday from the officers of the 5th Maryland and the citizens of Baltimore have been overwhelming.

The regiment by some mistake arrived an hour ahead of time yesterday, but that did not prevent a large crowd from gathering at the Camden station to welcome the troops, and as the first section pulled into the station Col. Clothworthy with several members of his staff and officers of the 5th Maryland was on hand to receive Col. Oakes and the men from Massachusetts.

At the home of ex-Gov. Brown, Gov. Crothers with Adj. Gen. Warfield and other members of the staff were assembled, and as the head of the column came opposite his Excellency Col. Oakes and staff gave a handsome salute and the regiment was given an hour for its handsome passage.

Arriving at the Camden station, the regiment was drawn up in column of companies, arms stacked and coats established and this duty being performed the members marched over to the well known hotel and sat down to a substantial dinner provided by the hosts, while the officers went to the headquarters where they were the guests of the officers of the Maryland regiment.

Later the mayor and several leading citizens called to pay their respects to Col. Oakes and his officers, as did also Col. Macklin and Lieut. Col. Frank Wilson of the 14th Maryland, the latter being a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company.

The afternoon and evening were given up to sightseeing, and scores of automobiles were pressed into the service. The visiting officers were driven out to one of the most attractive parks in Green Spring valley where they were royally entertained.

In the evening the officers were entertained at the Baltimore club and later at Ford's theatre.

MANY CLERGYMEN

AT FUNERAL OF LATE REV. B. F. KINGSLEY

LYNN, March 2.—The funeral services for Rev. Benjamin Franklin Kingsley, pastor of the Maple street Methodist Episcopal church, whose death occurred in the church parsonage on Maple street last Friday morning, were held at the church yesterday afternoon. Rev. Joel M. Leonard of Melrose, superintendent of the Lynn district of the New England conference, spoke. "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" was read by Rev. Albert Woods of Newburyport, and the scriptures were read by Rev. Ernest P. Herrick of Clinton and Rev. Charles W. Blackett of Malden.

Addresses were made by Rev. Geo. F. Durbin of Boston and Rev. George S. Butters of Melrose, in which they spoke in high terms of the work of Mr. Kingsley, prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Leonard and the benediction was by Rev. C. A. Littlefield. The body was taken to Pine Grove cemetery for interment.

During the church service the music was in charge of Charles F. Bel-four, organist, and the singing was by Mrs. Isabelle Bubber. There was a beautiful display of floral offerings. The pallbearers were Fred A. Barnes of Worcester, Frank Wray and Fred W. Sampson, also of Worcester, the latter being the commander of the Knights Templars commandery of that city; Charles H. Ramsdell, Malt Chase and R. K. Hunt, representing the Maple street church. The ushers were Fred H. Vickary, Wilbur S. Potter, Lloyd S. Foye, Walter A. Vaughn, all members of the church.

"CHAIN BRIDGE"

FAMOUS STRUCTURE AT NEWBURYPORT TO GO

The Essex county commissioners have filed with the state harbor and land commission plans for the new bridge to supersede the famous "chain bridge" at Newburyport. The act under which the commission is working provides that the new structure shall follow the lines of the old bridge so that perhaps the calling of it a new bridge as a misnomer.

The commission has filed a detailed plan, showing every feature of the present bridge and a second plan showing the new bridge in not quite so full detail. The cables of the new bridge will follow the old suspension chains, being given the same sweep from the top of one pier to the other.

The piers themselves will be considerably different. Instead of presenting the wedge shape appearance from the ground up that they have for years, they will have more the appearance of a trolley pole.

LISBON, N. H., March 2.—Four-year-old Eva Lantagne was burned to death when the house occupied by her father, Edward Lantagne, and owned by W. M. Payne was damaged by fire yesterday.

The little girl was alone in an upper chamber and the flames had made such progress when discovered that her rescue was impossible.

Of the Dinner Given by the Philippine Party

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A rush of callers, interrupted for a long walk in the afternoon and attendance last night at the special dinner in his honor, Mr. Taft regarding matters which brought President-elect Taft to within two days of his inauguration, with less than seven U. S. senators and 24 members of the house of representatives, besides a number of otherwise prominent persons who sailed to the orient with Mr. Taft in 1905. The trip attained most of its fame because of its matrimonial accomplishments. Representative Nicholas Longworth, and Mrs. Alice Roosevelt became betrothed. Representative Burke Cockran met Miss Ida, daughter of Judge Ide of the Philippine commission, who is now Mrs. Cockran, and Representative Swager Sherry of Kentucky met Miss Mignon Critch of Staten Island, to whom he became engaged.

The dinner took place in the banquet hall of the Willard hotel. Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia, one of the voyagers, was toastmaster, and the speeches voiced the general spirit of cordiality which exists among the members of the party, and were particularly tuned to express the feeling of honor which all shared because of the elevation of the head of the expedition.

The Philippine dinner last night was arranged by Miss Mabel Boardman and Representative Al-Kinley of Illinois, and was the most pretentious of the reunions in which this famous party indulges every year. There were present seven U. S. senators and 24 members of the house of representatives, besides a number of otherwise prominent persons who sailed to the orient with Mr. Taft in 1905. The trip attained most of its fame because of its matrimonial accomplishments. Representative Nicholas Longworth, and Mrs. Alice Roosevelt became betrothed. Representative Burke Cockran met Miss Ida, daughter of Judge Ide of the Philippine commission, who is now Mrs. Cockran, and Representative Swager Sherry of Kentucky met Miss Mignon Critch of Staten Island, to whom he became engaged.

A federal judgeship in northern Alabama brought to the Boardman residence yesterday afternoon a delegation in congress from that state headed by Representative Richardson. Mr. Taft went over the situation and listened to recommendations.

An informal tea, which is a feature at the Boardman afterwards, attracted there yesterday many members of Washington's official and social life.

COOPER'S LAWYERS

Ask That Dr. Glasgow be Instructed to Talk

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 2.—Re-freshed after a day's adjournment and with their lines of battle reformed, counsel in the Cooper-Sharp trial, for the slaying of Senator Carmack, today for the first time in court met today for the purpose of the contest. With the ordeal of cross-examination behind them, the three defendants were in especially good humor. Even Col. Cooper, usually stern and taciturn, smiled genially at his friends and seemed to enjoy a playful push in the back given by his youngest daughter, Mrs. Beverly Wilson of Mobile.

As soon as Judge Hart rapped for order, Mr. Anderson, counsel for defense, asked that the jury be sent from the room. It was so ordered by the court.

"Call Dr. Glasgow," said Judge Anderson. "The defendants are informed that a few days after the burial of Senator Carmack an autopsy was performed by Dr. Glasgow. He said to his credit, however, that he is personally willing but he has been instructed by the state not to talk. We ask that he be instructed to answer our questions."

Then Attorney-General McCann said: "We have instructed Dr. Glasgow not to talk. We retained Dr. Glasgow to get certain facts for us. These facts the defendants know. They put these bullets into Carmack's body; they shot the bullets into the dead man. They were there and we were not. We have no living witness to that killing."

General Washington replied for the defense that when the state closed its case without using Dr. Glasgow, the defense subpoenaed the doctor and

MRS. G. W. WICKERSHAM
MRS. R. A. BALLINGER
MRS. P. C. KNOX

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Society interest centers just now in the "re-organization" of the social cabinet and particularly in the personalities of the wives of the members of the cabinet. Of these Mrs. Philander C. Knox is easily the best known woman at the capital. Thousands of persons have remarked upon the boyish appearance of Senator Knox. Mrs. Knox is far more youthful in appearance than her husband. She is one of the most beautiful matrons in Washington's social circle. Another interesting woman in the new cabinet circle is Mrs. Ballinger. She is a scholarly woman of high artistic ideals and is also fond of social life. Her home in Seattle is noted for hospitality. Mrs. Wickersham is a New York woman, next door to Mrs. J. M. Dickinson, and a close friend of Mrs. Henry W. Taft. Mr. Wickersham has just bought a home in Washington at a price and a great favorite in Chicago, where she and her husband have resided for several years.

CHILD'S DREADFUL SKIN TROUBLES

Had Sixty Boils when but Six Months Old—Was Annually Attacked by a Humor—It Looked Red Like a Scald and Spread Over Half Her Head—Both Troubles are Cured.

NO PRAISE TOO HIGH FOR THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papa had a boil on his forehead. At that time the child was covered with prickly heat and I suppose in scratching it, her own head became infected for it broke out in boils, one after another. She had about sixty in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her of them entirely. Then, sometime later, her little feet were so sore from the tees. Being afraid it was salt rheum, I spoke to our doctor. He gave me a powder which dried it up, but soon after it broke out behind her ears. They cracked half way around and the humor spread up to her head until, on several occasions, it was nearly half covered. The humor looked like a scald, very red with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every year. I think it was toward the spring. I procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent which soon cleared it out of her blood. I continued the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment with the Resolvent until she was perfectly well. She has never been troubled in the last two years. We also find Cuticura Resolvent a good spring medicine and we are just giving the children Cuticura Resolvent Pills as a tonic. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly. Mrs. M. A. Scherwin, 674 Spring Way Ave., Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24, 1909."

400 STITCHERS

Quit Work in Douglas Factory

BROCKTON, March 2.—Alleging unfair treatment in regard to piece for work four hundred stitchers left work at the W. L. Douglas Shoe Co.'s shoe factory in this town yesterday by order of the boot and shoe workers' union.

Two weeks ago five women stitchers left work because of a disagreement with a foreman over the grade of work which they performed. Last week they returned and an effort was made to adjust the matter but this apparently failed as the stitchers came out today at the order of the union.

Local shoe manufacturers regarded the actions as another phase in the contest between the Douglas company and the boot and shoe workers' union which has been pending for more than a year.

CHINESE WOMAN A NICARAGUAN

Will Not be Deported Who Hopes to Rule Central America

BOSTON, March 2.—The status of a Chinese woman who has been legally admitted to the United States is not changed by a separation between her and her husband according to a ruling made by U. S. Commissioner Hayes yesterday. The decision was in the case of Chang Ying, a possessing Chinese woman of 25 years who left her husband, Yip Shong, a silk merchant at 11 Pell street, New York, because of his alleged cruel and abusive treatment. Shong having exhausted every resource to bring about a reconciliation is alleged to have caused the arrest of his wife on a charge of larceny and after she had proved her innocence he is alleged to have complained to the federal authorities that the woman was a "chatter" and was in the country illegally. She was arrested at a house on Oxford street, this city, in December last and after a long confinement, a case was decided by the commissioner today and the woman is allowed to remain in the United States.

INSPECTOR SILVIA

Repeats Story He Says That Howard Told Him

NEW BEDFORD, March 2.—The conduct of Private W. C. Howard, of the United States artilleryman who is on trial here for the murder of his wife, Ida Howard, after the finding of his wife's body on Sept. 29 last, was the subject with which District Attorney Swift of Fall River opened today's proceedings in the superior court. A densely crowded courtroom again followed the testimony with eager interest and once more the young defendant sat in an apparently contented frame of mind while the government continued in its efforts to prove him an axmurderer.

John Friley, a fellow soldier with Howard at the Fort Rodman garrison, opened the testimony by stating that he received a letter from Howard on Tuesday, Sept. 22, in which Howard asked Friley to say that he, Howard, had been with Friley at the post hospital on the previous Saturday evening. Howard also asked Friley to destroy the letter.

Gaspard Lamericaux mentioned in Miss Sturtevant's testimony yesterday as the man with whom Mrs. Howard, according to Miss Sturtevant's testimony, said she was going to elope today, that he knew any of the parties to the case. He said he never went driving with anybody and that he was a married man and had a family.

Freeman Forbes of this city heard Howard use abusive language towards Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. W. C. Grimsdew, proprietress of a club house on the corner of Court and State streets, said that on Sept. 2, Ida Howard and Mrs. Anna Bradford met the defendant near her place so that she could hear part of the conversation. Howard seemed to be trying to get his wife to sign a paper but she refused. Mrs. Howard asked her husband for money but he refused to give her all he had and he said that he wanted some for himself.

For the benefit of the medical experts and bearing on the question of the possible decomposition or other changes in Ida Howard's body after death, the district attorney put in the engineer's record of the temperature of September 11 and 21. In the latter case, the district attorney put in the testimony of statements made to him by Howard at the time of his arrest for the Dewhurst shooting and after the finding of his wife's body.

On the occasion of the Dewhurst case Howard said:

"I know my wife gave me away. I'll get even with her. I'll fix her. After his acquittal when witness let him out of the dock and urged him to go to his wife, Howard said:

"To hell with her. I don't want nothing to do with her; she can go to hell."

Witness told of Howard's identifying his wife's body on Tryon's boat apparently by the coat.

An important part of Mr. Silvia's testimony was that when he saw the body the lips were pulled and there were bluish marks across both lips and nose.

Coming to Howard's examination in the office of the chief of police Howard told this story:

That he had not left the reservation Saturday night, that at six o'clock he took a fish line to go out in a boat, that the water was rough and he changed his mind and he fished from the wharf; that he went to the barracks at 5 o'clock, smoked, went to the garden got some tomatoes, took them to the barracks and ate some, went to the wharf to see if there were any fish; went then to the hospital and talked with Friley, about 11:30 or 11:45 he saw Klein in front of the guard house and that he went to bed and was asleep before one o'clock.

Cross-questioned, Mr. Silvia said Howard admitted having the ears and explained his hiding from the sentry by saying he wanted him to think a Portuguese was stealing the boat. He admitted to Private Smith he was going to the guard house and said he did this to get away from the sentry. He said he hid in the garden. He at first denied and then admitted having written to Friley and although told that Klein was not on duty before one o'clock, insisted that he had seen him at the latest. The bail for his flightline he said he got from Sergeant Whitney.

ADMIRAL SPERRY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Rear Admiral Charles Sperry today made formal application to be relieved from duty as commander-in-chief of the Atlantic battleship fleet and Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder has been appointed in his place.

Admiral Sperry was tendered the presidency of the naval war college but declined the position, indicating his preference for subordinate duty there.

Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright will remain in command of the second division of the fleet. Rear Admiral William Potter is transferred from the command of the fourth division to command the third division, formerly in charge of Rear Admiral Schroeder and Rear Admiral Edward B. Barry, who has been supervisor of the naval auxiliaries at New York has been appointed commander of the fourth division.

EXPERT TESTIFIES

He Tells About Use of Firearms at Cooper Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 2.—The fact that the rebuttal witnesses for the state had been summoned to be in court today for the Carmack murder trial indicated that the case for the defense was almost completed.

The state purposes to make another attempt to get before the jury the fact that Senator Carmack, so far from feeling angry, scoffed at the idea of trouble and armed himself only to relieve the anxiety of his friends. Judge Hart ruled this testimony out upon cross-examination of the defense's witness, but the prosecution will offer it as part of its rebuttal testimony.

W. M. Setzer, a witness for the defense, said he was an expert on firearms and testified as to the kind of bullets used in an automatic pistol. Gen. Garner of the state said:

"I have no Senator Carmack's revolver. Examined it and tell whether or not the cylinder can be revolved for pulling the trigger."

The witness experimented and said:

"It can be turned only by pulling the trigger."

This fact contradicted the testimony of yesterday when it was sworn that Carmack was testing his revolver a few minutes before the tragedy by whirling the cylinder with his finger.

The next witness, W. S. Morgan, told of hearing the shots, of running out of his apartment and of meeting Mrs. Eganman, who was hysterical.

"Did she say Col. Cooper said, 'That is like a bastardly coward, hiding behind a woman'?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did she say he said, 'Now we have the drop on you'?"

He said Mrs. Eastman gave him the impression that Col. Cooper had shot Carmack without giving him a chance.

MAYOR'S COUNSEL EXAMINING BOOKS

Commissioner Boulger Laid Up With a Cold—Decisions May Be Given Out Tonight

The third of a series of sessions for the purpose of examining the books and records of the police department and board of police was held today at the office of the police board. Mayor Brown, who is the instigator of the investigation, was not present, but his counsel were and the greater part of the day was spent in examining the books and making notes.

When counsel arrived Commissioner Charles H. Hanson was on hand to welcome them, and a few minutes later Chairman Frank K. Stearns arrived on the scene, and tranquility prevailed during the day.

Commissioner Thomas P. Boulger was not present owing to the fact that he is confined to his home with a serious cold and may not be able to attend to his duties for several days.

The board will meet in regular session tonight but if Mr. Boulger is absent, as is expected, only routine business will be transacted. In the event of Mr. Boulger being able to attend the meeting it is expected that decisions will be given out in the Lowell Inn case and the charges preferred against Patrolman Kilroy.

JOHN P. FARLEY

Will be Re-appointed as Registrar

Mayor Brown will reappoint John P. Farley to the board of registrars. This statement was made last night and was today affirmed by the mayor. The appointment will go to the board of aldermen this evening for confirmation.

A RECEIVER

HAS BEEN ASKED FOR GERMAN THEATRE

NEW YORK, March 2.—Justice O'Grady of the supreme court reserved decision yesterday on an application by Maurice Baumfield for an injunction to restrain the directors of the German theatre, inc., from turning over any of the property, fixtures or furniture in the theatre to any one but Baumfield. Mr. Baumfield also wants a receiver appointed for the property, including the box office receipts, save only enough to pay the actors, orchestra members and stage hands.

It was asserted in court by Herbert Lumburg, counsel for the plaintiff, who is suing to recover $3,650 balance of salary alleged to be due him as manager of the theatre, that when a deputy sheriff went to levy on the theatre property he was informed that it had all been transferred to Mrs. Melba Blitz, wife of the president of the board of directors, and that even the lease and box office receipts had been assigned to her.

Counsel for the theatre, George E. Joseph, replied that Mrs. Blitz had loaned the theatre corporation $15,000, and that the assignments to her were simply as security for these loans and were perfectly legal and fair. Mr. Joseph added that the theatre had not made a dollar of profit so far this season, and the corporation was forced to borrow the money to keep things going.

FISCHER-HANSEN

BEGINS HIS TERM IN THE PENITENTIARY

NEW YORK, March 2.—Carl Fischer-Hansen, the lawyer, who pleaded guilty to subornation of perjury, left the Tombs yesterday afternoon to begin his year's sentence in the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island. He was in charge of Deputy Sheriff Delehan and Spelman.

Fischer-Hansen had announced that he would not leave the Tombs until Thursday. To escape observation yesterday he left the prison by way of the criminal courts building. With the deputy sheriffs he went to the City hall subway station and rode to Fifty-ninth street, completing the journey to the East river on a cross-town car. At Fifty-third street he boarded the Blackwell's Island boat.

After the prisoner's pedigree had been taken he was photographed. Then he got a shave, a haircut and a regulation circular striped prison suit. He was temporarily assigned to a cell on the third floor. He will get his permanent place of abode today and will be assigned to some sort of work.

John J. Barry, commissioner of correction, was on the island when Fischer-Hansen arrived, but the men did not meet.

NOISELESS GUN

NORTHFIELD, Vt., March 2.—A type of barrel which is said to kill nine-tenths of the noise of a gun to eliminate the recoil and to make black powder practically noiseless has been publicly demonstrated before members of the Northfield Gun club the past week. The inventor, Joseph C. Coulombe, was graduated from Norwich University in 1935 and since then has spent most of his time in perfecting this device. He explains that it differs from the Maxim invention in that the latter is an attachment to be placed on the end of the gun barrel, while his device is a part of the gun, consisting of a thin steel casing extending the full length of the barrel.

In the demonstrations here a 5 millimetre United States Navy rifle which could be heard by men stationed three miles distant had its noise so deadened by the Coulombe invention that it could be heard only 200 yards away.

PENSION LIST

Contains the Names of 211 Persons

NEW YORK, March 2.—The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, established by Andrew Carnegie three years ago with a fund of $10,000,000, which produces an annual income of about $500,000, has on its pension list at the present time 211 college professors, professors' widows and college officials. Since the institution of the foundation 245 pension grants have been made, but thirty-one of the beneficiaries have died and two pensions were discontinued.

The third annual report of Dr. Harry S. Pritchett, president of the foundation, was made public yesterday. The foundation paid out last year $392,555, which included $113,755 for the seventy-eight new grants that the foundation awarded in the fiscal year ended September 1, 1908.

Dr. Pritchett devoted a part of the report to showing that a retiring professor preserves his self-respect in accepting a pension from the foundation. "Once a college has been admitted to the privilege of the retiring allowance system," he wrote, "its professors receive their retiring allowance through the college exactly as they receive their salaries. They have no occasion to know the foundation in the matter. When the college authorities certify as to the facts a professor receives his retiring allowance as a matter of course. The check for it goes to the treasurer of the college and the professor receives his retired pay in exactly the same way that he receives his active pay. All that is necessary to that conception of the foundation under which the professor receives his retired pay as a right, not as a courtesy, as a thing earned, not as charity."

The institutions accepted by the foundation in the last fiscal year are the Central university of Kentucky, Drake university, Drury college, Franklin college, Rose Polytechnic institute and the University of Cincinnati. The first four have qualified by dropping denominational tests for teachers.

MURDER OF GIRL JEWELS STOLEN

The Police Have a New Theory

They Were Taken by Woman's Son

HAMILTON, Ont., March 2.—The original theory that Ethel Kinrade, who was shot to death last week, was killed by a tramp, has been entirely discarded by the police. At the inquest on Wednesday night Florence Kinrade, sister of the murdered girl, and the only known eyewitness of the tragedy, will tell her story and, it is believed, make it possible to name the murderer.

A police officer who was at the scene of the murder fifteen minutes after it happened discovered a clue entirely overlooked by others. This is a woman's neck scarf covered with blood, picked up in the back yard near the footprints which Florence Kinrade says she left when she ran to the fence behind the house for the purpose of making her escape.

According to Florence Kinrade's story, she ran from the house when the shots were fired and then returned to grapple with the murderer, who escaped by the front of the house. No one but herself, according to her story, went into the back yard, and who will be asked to explain how this blood covered article came to be there. The detectives now say that the murderer was deliberate. Seven shots were fired into the dead girl's body. They were .22 calibre, and as there are no seven chamber guns of that size made the murderer either had two revolvers or released the one used. An automatic revolver could not have been used, since nickel bullets are used in the automatics and lead bullets were used in this case.

Detective Miller was closeted with Florence Kinrade for over an hour yesterday morning. The girl went into hysterics when directly questioned on certain points in her story. It seems certain that Ethel was dead some time before the police were notified, and when found by McNichol, one of the first on the scene, her face was covered with a handkerchief. The long green coat which she was supposed to be wearing when shot, contained no shot holes, although her waist and inner garments were badly torn and burned.

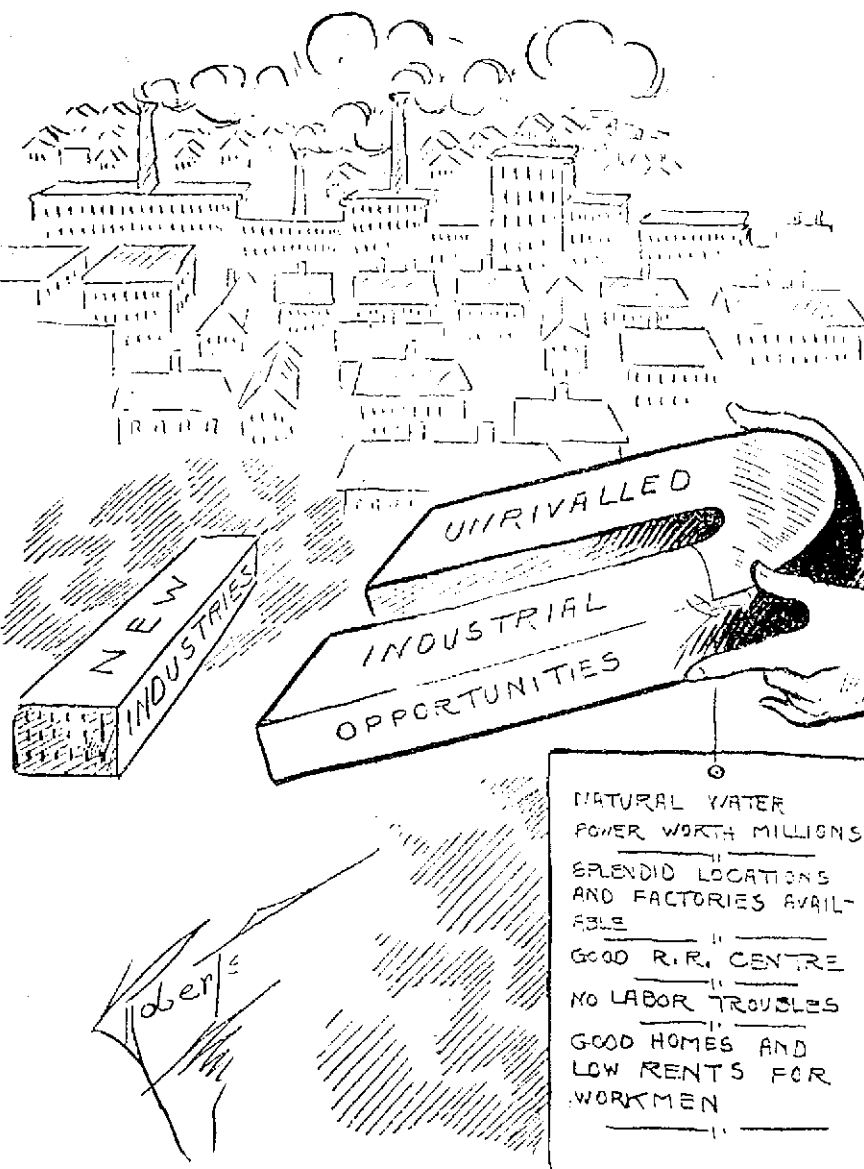

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 2.—An attempt by Westmore Meehan, son of John T. Meehan, the New York restaurant man, to sell his mother's diamond sunburst brooch for $25 on the street here yesterday resulted in the arrest of the boy and Charles Benz and John O'Donnell, his young companions, who had come to the shore to have a time on the proceeds of a looting of Mrs. Meehan's jewel box.

Despite the pleas of the boys, none of whom is over 17 years, they were locked up in a cell at police headquarters after the jewels which they had stolen had been recovered. These jewels are said to be worth $5000. Mr. and Mrs. Meehan are here today trying to have the charges quashed. They want to take their boy back to New York.

According to the story which the police got from the boys they decided to have a seashore trip with fine trimmings. To get funds they took the jewels of Mrs. Meehan. The Atlantic City police having been notified of the loss and had suspicion that the Meehan boy had been among the thieves were on the lookout for the three this morning when they were notified that a strange young man was trying to dispose of a handsome diamond brooch at a ridiculously low price. Detective Barshaw traced the three boys to a big beach front hotel, where they were arrested. Search of their rooms resulted in finding practically all of the stolen jewels and the boys admitted that they had taken them for the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Meehan came here as soon as they were informed of their son's arrest and pleaded with Captain of Detectives Whalen last night to release him and his companions and stop proceedings that might land them in jail for their escapades.

The boys are badly scared over the prospect of being taken back to New York under guard to stand trial for the theft, and it is likely that the police here will consent to free them on condition of their pledge to be good.

FRAUD CHARGED

G. A. R. MAN WAS PLACED UNDER ARREST

NEW YORK, March 2.—James Cunningham, who has been in the undertaking business at 158 Duffield street, Brooklyn, for 50 years and has been prominent in Grand Army circles, was arrested yesterday by government agents on a charge of drawing pension agents by false representations. When arrested he was in the company of Commissioner Benedict. It seems that Cunningham was released in $2000 bail for examination next Monday. He declined for the present to make any statement about the matter.

It is alleged that in affidavits filed with the pension bureau at Washington, Cunningham had stated that he served in Company D of the 10th New York Volunteers in the Civil war under the name of Edwin Walker, under which name he declared he enlisted. On the strength of the affidavits he received a discharge made out in the name of James Cunningham. In December, 1904, he made a declaration for a pension and got $5 a month, and later on this was raised to $8 a month on his own application. So far he has drawn about $400 in pension money.

AGED FATHER

MUST BE SUPPORTED BY HIS SON

NEW YORK, March 2.—In order that white haired, feeble Richard Pritchard, 72 years old, who served with distinction as a quartermaster during the Civil war may not suffer in his old age, Justice Aspinwall, in the supreme court, Brooklyn, yesterday directed the man's son John to sell his home at 507 Putnam avenue and devote $1500 for the care of his father in some institution.

The old man told a pathetic story. He alleged that 12 years ago, when his son, a pilot on a local ferry, married, he gave John and the bride the house and property mentioned, with the understanding that they should care for him after he was unable to work. The property was then worth about $5000, he says.

The old sailor was working in the navy yard, but about a year ago, through illness, he had to cease work. He received a pension of $12 a month, which, he says, he gave to his son. He says he was not well taken care of thereafter, and had at times to sleep in his hat and trousers because John would not have a draught window repaired. He also said that John would not get him medical attendance or medicine when he became ill three weeks ago.

The old man went afterward to live with friends at 123 Spencer place. He then started the proceedings which ended yesterday, and probably will finish his days in an institution. His son John and the latter's wife deny his allegations in the suit.

RIGHT TO CEMETERY

LEADS TO LAW SUIT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 2.—The quarrel over the right of any family to bury a deceased member in old St. John's cemetery, at Oakdale, L. I., where for forty years an interment had been made until a few days ago developed another phase yesterday.

John Dushay, caretaker of the dilapidated St. John's church and cemetery, told a mass of flowers from the grave of Richard U. Wall, of Sayville, whose body is alleged to have been surreptitiously interred after the death of his family or friends had forced the body of the cemetery out.

Dushay said he acted under orders from Mrs. Ludlow, wife of Admiral Ludlow, from whom she separated some time ago. Mrs. Ludlow owns the church and cemetery, both having decided to buy after the separation. She ordered the church razed and had a strong bar put on the cemetery gate. A bench nearby is inevitable.

SUES HUSBAND

WIFE SAYS THAT HE NEGLECTED HER

NEW YORK, March 2.—Edward F. Church was formerly president of South Orange, N. J., and according to his wife, Isabelle, led an exemplary life until 1902. She is suing him for a separation now and Justice Nevechauer in the supreme court reserved decision in the suit yesterday.

Church was already a widower, with three children when he married the present plaintiff 30 years ago. They now have three children of their own, two of whom live with Mrs. Church at 521 West 123d street, and the wife says that she is compelled to rely for her support on the earnings of these two, as since 1902 her husband has neglected her.

About that time, she says, and while they were still living in South Orange, Mr. Church began to develop a taste for liquor. As South Orange was a dry town on Sundays he brought home a quart bottle of whiskey Saturdays, and it was empty Monday morning. Church, who is a dry goods salesman, testified in his own defence that he had not neglected his family, but that when he met with severe financial reverses his wife refused to live in the home he was able and willing to provide for her, because it was not as comfortable as their old home in South Orange.

BIG AUTO RACE

DISTANCE FROM COAST TO COAST TO BE COVERED

CHICAGO, March 2.—Tom Moore of New York who is booming the coast to coast automobile race, is here with glowing accounts of the wave of motor interest sweeping through the north-west in the van of the coming grind. Save for a few of the minor details everything in connection with the big run has been completed and the finishing touches are being put on for the start over their four thousand mile journey. While in Seattle Mr. Moore arranged with the officials of the Alaskan-Yukon exposition to have the fair and the race start simultaneously on June 1 with the pressing of a button in Washington. The route will be from New York to Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne and to Granger. From Granger the course is unsettled and will be mapped out during the present month.

PRESIDENT-ELECT

HAD MANY SENATORS AS CALLERS TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—With no engagements to begin the day President-elect Taft anticipated another period of comparative ease and quiet in preparation for the arduous duties that confront him.

Notwithstanding the death of previous engagements, senators from the capital began to present themselves at the Executive residence at an early hour. These were rather calls of respect than business or political undertakings.

Mr. Taft contemplates a long walk this afternoon. He continues to be in fine spirit and health.

Bassett and Jones Elected Selectmen—Banks and Garland are Tied for Third Place—James J. McManmon Was Re-Elected Town Treasurer—Brennan Wins Out for Town Clerk

The annual town meeting of Dracut was held yesterday and proved to be one of the most enthusiastic and interesting in the history of the town. Despite the fact that indications pointed towards a sweeping victory for the democrats, the republicans made a clean sweep of the choice offices and the town went no-license by a small majority.

Herbert C. Jones and Fred A. Bassett, republicans, were elected selectmen and Walter F. Garland, republican and Martin J. Banks, democrat, were tied for the third place.

tion as the roads in the section mentioned were about evenly worn, the growth along the roads, making the latter almost impassable at times and places.

The article was adopted after considerable discussion. The sum of $200 was called for in the next article for the grading of the Parker avenue and school grounds.

Messrs. N. E. Huntley and Harry M. Peabody spoke in favor of the article and it was passed.

George St. Leger, Hiram E. Linscott and Selden Colburn are the committee appointed to look after the carrying out of the provisions of the article.

Under article 32, which called for a vote to be taken in regard to the finance committee and elect members to the same, it was voted to discharge all members of the same and likewise dismiss the article.

The following article was relative to the pay of the selectmen for their services during the year, and to fix an amount which those officials should receive yearly.

Harry W. Barnes submitted standards of the salaries paid similar boards in neighboring towns and moved that the governing body of Dracut receive the following compensation. Chairman, $225, and the other two members $187.50 per year. This was amended so as to read $250 for the chairman and $200 each for the other members.

The amendment was lost and the previous motion prevailed so that the figures stand $225 chairman, and $187.50 each for the two other members.

Article 36—"To see if the town will vote to amend and alter section 2 of article 4, of the by-laws of the town so as to read as follows:

"Section 2.—All taxes assessed in each year, except poll taxes, shall be paid on or before October 31 next following, and all taxes paid on or before that date shall be subject to a discount of 2 per cent. thereon. Bills for poll taxes shall be due within 10 days of presentation."

This article prevailed by a good vote. The recommendation of $2000 made in the estimates of appropriations relative to street lighting was left over from the early part of the meeting pending the action of the meeting on the several new lights called for in the warrant.

Last year's appropriation was $2200 and the close of the year found a balance of $383.50. As no lights were voted for during the meeting, at the conclusion of the latter the sum of $2400 was raised for street lighting.

Moderator Stevens appointed Almon Richardson, J. Edwin Kennedy and Philip Dracut as a building committee on the East Dracut school voted for during the day.

It was voted in conclusion that the month work for the ensuing year be done by the tree warden.

A CIGAR STUB

Started Fire Causing $75,000 Loss

MEDFORD, March 2.—A little flame probably caused by a lighted cigar stub or a match carelessly cast into a barn started a fire today that destroyed the wire factory of Oliver Whyte, a barn and two blacksmith shops and damaged E. Teel & Co's carriage top factory and two residences. The loss is estimated at $75,000. So rapidly did the flames spread and so threatening was the fire, that assistance was summoned from the neighboring cities of Malden and Melrose.

All the burned buildings were located on Swan street on the southwest side of Mystic river and just south of Medford square. The rain also prevented many of the numerous factories along both shores of the river from being set on fire by the flying sparks. Total loss $90,000.

THE GAS REBATES

Sum of $100,000 Was Paid Out

NEW YORK, March 2.—The work of paying the gas rebates was begun at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and continued until 5 o'clock in the afternoon with a good steady stride and with little misunderstanding and less disorder. The uptown bureaus had no trouble at all, sending out checks by mail as fast as they reached the names on the books.

At 104 Chrystie street and to a certain extent at 92 Fifth avenue, which offices had to do with a part of the Italian quarter, the course of affairs ran less smoothly, but even in these two districts there was much less trouble than had been expected. Many of those who went to the bureaus with their little roll of yellow receipts in their hands expected to get their money right away, and in a good many cases it had to be explained at some length that checks would be sent out as soon as possible.

At the Chrystie street bureau the word "check" sounded as good as real money to most of the people, who were of the Jewish race and who, although deficient in English, knew considerable about business methods and certainly enough to know that the check of the gas companies was as good as money. The uneducated Italians were less easily appeased, however, and some of them shook their heads and for a moment or two were pretty sure that some sort of a trick was being played upon them.

Those who had to do with the distribution in these quarters were reminded occasionally of the frozen runs on banks which are a common enough feature of the life in these districts. There was a goodly line at the beginning of the distribution, and when the men, women and children of the neighborhood saw the line and had inquired what it meant they all ran home for their receipts and then ran back again to take their places in the line, apparently with the notion that they must get their money right away or never.

Approximately $100,000 was paid out yesterday. The checks mailed numbered 9000. At this rate it would take four months to pay $1,000,000.

COOPER'S LAWYERS SOCIETY INTERESTED IN CABINET MEMBERS' WIVES

Ask That Dr. Glasgow be Instructed to Talk

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 2.—Refreshed after a day's adjournment and with their lines of battle reformed, counsel in the Cooper-Sharp trial for the slaying of former Senator E. W. Carmack appeared in court today for renewal of the contest. With the ordeal of cross-examination behind them, the three defendants were in especially good humor. Even Col. Cooper, usually stern and taciturn, smiled genially at his friends and seemed to enjoy a playful push in the back given by his youngest daughter, Mrs. Beverly Wilson of Mobile.

As soon as Judge Hart rapped for order Mr. Anderson, counsel for defense, asked that the jury be sent from the room. It was so ordered by the court.

"Call Dr. Glasgow," said Judge Anderson. "The defendants are informed that a few days after the burial of Senator Carmack an autopsy was performed by Dr. Glasgow. He said to his credit, however, that he is personally willing but he has been instructed by the state not to talk. We ask that he be instructed to answer our questions."

Then Attorney General McCann said:

"We have instructed Dr. Glasgow not to talk. We retained Dr. Glasgow to get certain facts for us. These facts the defendants know. They put these bullets into Carmack's body; they shot the bullets into the dead man. They were there and we were not. We have no living witness to that killing."

General Washington replied for the defense that when the state closed its case without using Dr. Glasgow, the defense subpoenaed the doctor and that he was the defense's witness.

It will be recalled that no autopsy was held on Senator Carmack's body after the tragedy. Two physicians cut out the two bullets that passed through his abdomen but these bullets were directly under the skin. There was no effort to discover the range of the bullets. Early in January, however, the state's attorneys accompanied by Dr. Glasgow and another physician went to Columbia and disinterred the body of the dead senator. The results of the autopsy were not made public.

"I instruct the doctor," said Judge Hart, "that it is not proper to talk, but it is proper to talk if he wishes."

"I am employed by another and without his consent I cannot talk. It would not be professional," said Dr. Glasgow.

The court observed that the question raised was a novel one. Finally the attorney general said:

"If the defense will give us back what we paid for Dr. Glasgow's services, we consent to their conferring with him."

"If we decide to use the doctor as a witness we will reimburse the state," said Mr. Anderson.

"No you won't. You will reimburse us before you talk to him," said the attorney general.

"Now that you have gotten the dispute down to a question of dollars and cents," interposed the court in a disgusted tone, "the defense's contention is that it wants to see the goods before it buys them. The state, however, wants to sell them in a bag."

Counsel for the state finally retired for a consultation with Dr. Glasgow.

CHILD'S DREADFUL SKIN TROUBLES

Had Sixty Boils when but Six Months Old—Was Annually Attacked by a Humor—It Looked Red Like a Scald and Spread Over Half Her Head—Both Troubles are Cured.

NO PRAISE TOO HIGH FOR THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papa had a boil on his forehead. At that time the child was covered with prickly heat and I suppose in scratching it, her own head became infected so it broke out in boils, one after another. I tried all sorts of ointments and lotions in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her of them entirely. Then, sometime later, her little face got sore between the toes. Being afraid it was salt rheum, I spoke to our doctor. He gave me a powder which dried it up, but soon after it broke out behind her ears. They cracked half way around and the humor spread up to her head and on several occasions, it was nearly all covered. The humor looked like a scald, very red with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every year. I think it was toward the spring. I always bathed it with warm water and Cuticura Soap and applied Cuticura Ointment which never failed to heal it up. The last time it broke out was when she was six years old. It became so bad that I was discouraged. Then I procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent which soon cleared it out of her blood. I continued the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment with the Resolvent until she was perfectly well. She is now about eight years old and has never been troubled in the least two years. We also find Cuticura Resolvent a good spring medicine and we are just giving the children Cuticura Resolvent Pills as a tonic. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly. Mrs. M. A. Schwerin, 674 Spring Wells Ave., Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24, 1908."

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Society interest centers just now in the "re-organization" of the social cabinet and particularly in the personalities of the wives of the members of Mr. Taft's cabinet. Of these Mrs. Philander C. Knox is easily the best known woman at the capital. Thousands of persons have remarked upon the high appearance of Senator Knox. Mrs. Knox is far more youthful in appearance than her husband. She is one of the most beautiful matrons in Washington's social circle. Another interesting woman in the new cabinet circle is Mrs. Ballinger. She is a scholarly woman of high artistic ideals and is also fond of social life. Her home in Seattle is noted for hospitality. Mrs. Wickersham is a New York woman and a close friend of Mrs. Henry W. Taft. Mrs. Dickinson is a southern woman of charming personality and a great favorite in Chicago, where she and her husband have resided for several years.

CHINESE WOMAN Will Not be Deported Who Hopes to Rule Central America

BOSTON, March 2.—The status of a Chinese woman who has been legally admitted to the United States is not changed by a suggestion from her and her husband according to a ruling made by U. S. Commissioner Hayes yesterday. The decision was in the case of Chang Ying, a prepossessing Chinese woman of 28 years who left her husband, Yeh Sheng, a silk merchant at 111 Pitt street, New York, because of his alleged cruel and abusive treatment. Sheng having exhausted every resource to bring about a reconciliation is alleged to have caused the arrest of his wife on a charge of larceny and after she had proved her innocence he is alleged to have committed to the federal authorities that the woman was a "haboree" and was in the country illegally. She was arrested at a house on Oxford street, this city, in December last and after many continuances the case was decided by the commissioner today and the woman is allowed to remain in the United States.

Brown St. Repairs. Article 27, relating to the appropriation of $250 to repair Brown street from the Wilmington-Billerica line to the junction with South street was read. It was laid on the table, and Article 5, to see what sums of money are to be raised by taxation to defray necessary expenses for the ensuing year was taken up. Article 25, to see if the town will vote to assume all liabilities that Joel L. Phelps, William T. Lewis and Buzzell King, as selectmen, assumed in giving bonds to the City Institution for Savings, whereby, to get a duplicate bank book No. 127, said bank book being the property of the town of Tewksbury, and is supposed to be lost, stolen or destroyed," was read. Selectman Lewis said the bank book held amounts left to the town by Mrs. Martin Shedd, for the care of the cemetery. The book was kept in Moore's store, and at the time of the fire there it was either burned or stolen. The selectmen had to give personal bonds to get a duplicate book. The article would shift responsibility from the selectmen to the town. It was adopted.

Article 26, relative to the appropriation of $500 to repair South street, from Foster's corner to the Wilmington line, was defeated.

Article 27, relative to the appropriation of $250 for the repair of Brown street from the Wilmington-Billerica line to its junction with South street, was taken up. Warren Caldwell moved that the highway commissioners expend what is needed to repair the road out of the highways fund. The article in this form was adopted.

Protect Forests. Article 19, to see what action the town will take on the following question: Shall an act passed by the general court in the year 1905, entitled an act to provide for the protection of forest or sprout lands from fire, be accepted? was read. Special ballots were taken on this. Herbert W. Pillsbury read a letter from the state treasury, in which he expressed the hope that the town would vote in favor of the article.

When the ballots were counted the results as herein mentioned were announced by the moderator.

BRONZE TABLET

Suggested For Ladd and Whitney Monument

Gen. Edward F. Jones, former lieutenant governor of New York, the old colonel of the Sixth regiment during the Civil war, is most desirous that the memory of Private Charles A. Taylor, killed in Baltimore, shall be properly honored. He suggests a bronze tablet to be placed on the Ladd and Whitney monument and he is willing to bear the expense himself if permitted to do so.

He suggests that the tablet be unveiled on Patriots day, and he is willing to come to Lowell to direct matters in connection with it.

Gen. Jones writes Mayor Brown as follows:

February 27, 1909.
Hon. George H. Brown, Mayor, Lowell, Mass.

Sir—It is desired by the surviving comrades of the Old Sixth Massachusetts regiment to duly recognize monumentally the memory of Charles A. Taylor, the first to fall in defense of the Union at the opening of the late Civil war. He died at the hand of the mob in Baltimore on the 19th of April, 1861. He enlisted in Capt. Hart's Co., 6th, as the regiment was leaving Boston on the 17th of April, and was not in uniform at the time of his death. Not seeming to be one of the soldiers, from this fact, his body was not returned to Massachusetts with those of Needham, Ladd and Whitney. A monument was erected at Lawrence to the memory of Needham and at Lowell to that of Ladd and Whitney. Why this neglect to remember Taylor has never been explained. Unfortunately, we have never been able to gain any knowledge as to the relatives of our dead comrade, though diligent inquiry has from time to time been made. It is not too late to make such friends as we are able. The proposition is to place, with suitable ceremonies, a commemorative tablet on the present Ladd and Whitney monument, with such inscription as conditions demand. What seems the most practicable position is to cover, with a bronze tablet, the inscription:

"Nothing is here for tears,—nothing to weep.
Or knock the breast, no weakness, no content,
Dispraise or blame; nothing but well and fair,
And what may quiet us in a death so noble."

The sentiment is very grand, no doubt, but there is at least one who does not understand it, and feels that the occupancy of this space to the memory of Taylor must meet with the approval of all who are interested. The size of the space is 22 1/4 inches by 11 1/4 inches. The Murdoch-Shaw Co. has been requested to inform your Honor of the cost of the tablet installed on the monument. The amount is comparatively insignificant, and if the city of Lowell does not see fit to pay for it, it can be raised by subscription, rather than have our comrade's name forever neglected. I would pay for the same, if the city government will give me the necessary permission but no doubt the people of Lowell, through its city government, will claim the right to honor as proposed, the memory of Charles A. Taylor.

The ceremonies of unveiling should be in accordance with the demands of the occasion, and should be at least a city affair, and if practicable, joined by the state of Massachusetts.

Permit me to make a suggestive program. His Honor, the mayor, presiding; an opening prayer; singing of "America"; such address as the mayor may choose to make; short address by the old commander of the regiment; an oration by, perhaps, the governor of the commonwealth; poem by the Hon. Charles M. Dickinson, for eight years consul general at Constantinople and since consul at large for the United States, written for the occasion and read by him.

The above are only suggestions and must not be considered in any sense dictatorial, and if not approved, must be excused on the ground of my great interest in the affair. If desirable, I will come to Lowell to consult with the program committee, should the honorable council take such action as we hope for. If His Excellency, the governor, is to be asked to deliver the

HORSES KILLED

Pasture Was Sprinkled With Poison

NEW YORK, March 2.—Twenty-four horses, worth $10,000, the property of John W. Dolan, a contractor at No. 218 East Thirty-eighth street, have died of arsenical poisoning at his stables in Corona, L. I., within four months, the last two yesterday. The police of the village are puzzling over the mystery.

An enemy of Dolan, or an enemy of animals in general, must be blamed, it is believed, as the horses all died soon after nibbling at grass in a four-acre lot adjoining the Dolan stables. Two dogs and 110 chickens belonging to a neighbor also were killed by the poison.

On Sunday five horses died, among them Dolan's $1500 driving horse, a prize trotter. When he lost this animal Dolan notified the police and had veterinarians examine the bodies of all the others. Each was a victim of arsenic.

The Corona police at first believed there might be diseased condition in the grass. They had scientists examine it. Patches here and there were literally saturated with the poison, while the rest was normal and nutritious.

Only those animals which had been turned out to graze in the pasture died, the contractor told the police, so it could not have been anything in their stable food that killed them.

"In November, when there were a few mild days, I ordered some of the horses sent to the lot," Dolan said last night. "Two suddenly died. I paid no attention to that occurrence. The next day a dozen more died, and I had the oats and hay examined. That was all right. Then they began to drop off by twos and fours, and I realize now—it was always after they had been eating the pasture grass."

"Sunday, when I heard that my trotter and four others had gone, I investigated a little. I found that a couple of valuable dogs and more than one hundred chickens belonging to Henry Platon, who has the next place, also had died after being in the lot. Then I called the police and veterinarians. Dolan declined to say whether he had any enemies who might be suspected of poisoning the grass. The Corona police last night declared that they had a clue tending to show that a man and a woman had sprinkled arsenic in the pasture. But they would not say what this clue was. Neither would the contractor.

KID FARMER'S BOUT

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—Kid Farmer of Florida, 14, and Young Donahue of Boston will meet in a scheduled ten round bout at the Parkview A. C. tonight.

Indigestion and Distress
Vanish Five Minutes Later

Every family here ought to keep some Dyaepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50c case of Dyaepsin and take one triangle after supper tonight. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach. Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Dyaepsin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist's waiting for you.

These large 50c cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyaepsin or indigestion.

LAWYER BEATTIE PROF. DAPPRICH

Protests Against Fine A Juror in the Standard Oil Case

CHICAGO, March 2.—Judge Bretano will hear testimony on Friday on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Charles Beattie, an attorney who had been fined $200 and locked up in default of payment by Municipal Judge Blake. After a consultation with the latter concerning the trial of a case, Beattie is said to have applied this remark to the court:

"You are no more fit to try a case on that bench than a pig." The fine and incarceration followed.

"The point I raise is this," says Beattie. "When I called Judge Blake a pig he had adjourned court and descended from the bench. By that act he had divested himself of all the sacredness that invests the person of the court. He became a private individual and I had as much right to call him a pig as I have to use that term toward any other individual who deserved it. On this point I stand. I stand there as firmly as the pyramids upon their foundations."

CHICAGO, March 2.—One of the jurors chosen in the re-trial of the Standard Oil case before Judge Anderson says the Record-Herald is Prof. Frederick R. Dapprich, instructor in political economy at the university of Chicago.

The professor was not questioned whether the donations given by John D. Rockefeller to the institution would affect his decision in the case. When asked if he considered the Standard Oil company a monopoly he answered in the affirmative.

Before coming to Chicago he was professor of German at Notre Dame. He is also connected with an advertising agency.

GOVERNOR DRAPER

Issues a Statement on Sale of "Slightly Infected" Beef

BOSTON, March 2.—Gov. Draper, in a statement regarding "slightly infected" beef, issued last evening, declared that less than 14 per cent. of all the beef sold in Massachusetts is slaughtered without United States government inspection, and that this 14 per cent. is killed under the supervision of local inspectors.

The governor has gone into the matter pretty thoroughly during the last few days, and yesterday he and Dr. Austin C. Peters of the cattle bureau were closeted together for some time discussing the various phases of it. Gov. Draper's statement, in part, is:

"To the people: For the last three or four days there have been articles appearing in one of the Boston newspapers in regard to the selling of infected or tubercular beef to the people. Some of the articles have been written in a very sensational way, and are calculated to do much harm.

"The bulk of all the beef sold in this commonwealth is dressed beef and is inspected where killed, by the authorities of the United States government. Roughly speaking, 85 per cent. of all the meat sold or consumed in Massachusetts comes in its dressed beef from outside the state.

"This leaves only 15 per cent. of all the beef sold or consumed in the state killed at local slaughter houses. Three-quarters of this 15 per cent. killed in local slaughter houses is killed under United States government inspection. This leaves about 1-4 per cent. of all the beef sold or consumed in the state which is not slaughtered under government inspection. This 14 per cent. is slaughtered under the supervision of local inspectors.

Lowell People Flock To the Kickapoos

Last Week of the Demonstration At Dows' Drug Store

The immense sale of Sagwa and the other Kickapoos Remedies continues to increase. Monday and Tuesday Dows' drug store was packed with people all trying to get trial bottles of the Sagwa and talk with our representative. It is the same way in every city where we make our demonstrations. The Sagwa sells because it really cures diseases of the stomach and liver. The following is what people say who have taken Sagwa.

"Mr. John Schmitt, 534 Birch street, Fall River, Mass., makes the following important statement and gives us the right to publish his statement: 'I was in bed two months with La Grippe. I consulted Dr. A. G. Gripe. His prescriptions have been the only medicines that I have taken. The ailment started with a cold, then turned into La Grippe of the worst form. Within one week after I began to use Sagwa I noticed a change for the better. My La Grippe quickly disappeared. The Sagwa cured me absolutely. Although I used six bottles, I consider myself permanently cured. I have not taken Sagwa for run down condition. I am willing that these facts should be published.'

The above is convincing because it is a simple, straightforward, honest statement of plain facts.

Here is another convincing testimonial from Mrs. B. Victory of Academy street, Fall River.

"In gratitude I wish to acknowledge the benefit I have derived from the use of Kickapoos Sagwa. I have had stomach trouble for many years, but the last six months I grew worse than ever. My food digested poorly, my stomach would fill up with gas, causing the most excruciating pain through my liver, bowels, and stomach, and also affecting my heart. In fact, I became so bad that I was afraid to eat as it caused such stomach pains. I tried many different remedies, but all failed. I thought I should either go crazy or seek help. As I had tried with many doctors and obtained only temporary relief, all agreeing that mine was an incurable case of stomach trouble. No doctor seemed to help in what I was doing. After that I tried your different remedies, and in fact, all that I could learn of it, I thought would benefit me. The result was that soon temporary benefit as I might receive would soon be followed by attacks more severe than before. I was having a very severe attack of my trouble when, fortunately,

FAMOUS ARTIST WHO COLLAPSED

NEW YORK, March 2.—Henry Hutt, the artist whose pictures of fair women have spread his fame from one end of the country to another, is in a New York hospital suffering from collapse, and in a critical condition. Mr. Hutt fell on Broadway and was found by a passerby who called a doctor. He is believed to have been caused by overwork. It was with difficulty that he told his name, and he was unable to tell his age or where he lived. Mr. Hutt attracted the attention of the American public nearly ten years ago through his pictures of women, and since that time his work has steadily increased in popular favor. His wife, whom he married in 1903, was a model of most of his sketches. He is believed to have been over thirty-four years old.

Freytag is Not Yet in Friends Searching For Office Joseph Letourneau

LAWRENCE, March 2.—The attempt to take an inventory of the public property department incident to the succession of Oswald Freytag to Patrick J. Hennessy as superintendent was blocked yesterday afternoon by a majority of the committee on public property refusing to proceed until the question of the legality of Freytag's taking office without the acceptance of his bond had been settled. Aldermen Burns and Weeks, Councilmen John J. McCarthy, E. J. McCarthy, Jr., and Kneupper voting to postpone action, while Councilman Grunwald was with Mayor White in favor of immediate proceedings.

Meantime Supt. Hennessy refuses to relinquish the office, and he also acted on advice of counsel in objecting to an inventory after a majority of the committee had opposed it. He declined to furnish the mayor with an inventory of the property.

In the assumption of office by City Treasurer, Hamel yesterday, William T. Tenenbary was assistant city treasurer, and William Schmitt, Albert Moss and Frank Burns were named clerks, succeeding Daniel P. Desmond, John P. Kane and Achille Proulx and Adolph Dogstrand.

MAINE ELECTION

Only One Democratic Mayor Chosen

PORTLAND, Me., March 2.—Further gains were made by the republicans in the city elections held yesterday in 11 Maine cities. Republican mayors were elected in nine of them, a gain of two over last year, and republican city governments in eight of them.

Saco was carried by the democratic party, and election and location by the democrats as usual.

The board of aldermen of South Portland will be democratic, though the loss of one ward, but a republican mayor was elected.

The same cities two years ago chose seven democratic mayors and five democratic city governments. The democratic losses yesterday were in Rockland, a democratic stronghold, and in Bath, which is ordinarily republican.

All five mayors re-nominated were re-elected. The elections generally were quiet. The weather was fair and cold.

The following are the names of the mayors elected:

Auburn, Irving L. Merrill; Bath, John S. Hyde; Bangor, Walter F. Carroon; Bar Harbor, Frank P. Simonson; Berwick, Charles H. Gray; Bethel, Dana C. Skilling; Biddeford, Frank A. Moore; Brunswick, Albert C. McLean; Calais, Portland, Fred H. Hamilton; Saco, Elmer H. Mitchell; South Portland, Frank Redington, Jr. Re-elected.

DAYTON, Ohio, March 2.—An explosion rent the smokeless powder department of the King Powder works at Kinross Mills, seven miles northwest of Lebanon, yesterday afternoon, and Walter Thompson of Lima, Ohio, the only man about the building at the time, was killed.

Charles E. Miller, who made an unsuccessful attempt to be elected to a berth on the school committee, has decided to give it another try this year and thinks that he can win a good show of votes. Joseph D. Meador and Nath H. Butts will also be candidates.

The Western Ohio paper has a report that the country minister in the town hall about the middle of the month.

FIFTH REGIMENT TAFT MADE HERO

Given a Warm Welcome to Baltimore

BAITIMORE, March 2.—Members of 5th Infantry, M. V. M., were a tired lot when they turned into quarters last night, many having got in only a few hours' sleep on board the Plymouth on the journey over the sound last night.

The hospitalities they received yesterday from the officers of the 5th Maryland and the citizens of Baltimore have been overwhelming.

The regiment by some mistake arrived an hour ahead of time yesterday, but that did not prevent a large crowd from gathering at the Camden station to welcome the troops, and as the first section pulled into the station, Col. Clothworthy with several members of his staff and officers of the 5th Maryland was on hand to receive Col. Oakes and the men from Massachusetts.

At the home of ex-Gov. Brown, Gov. Crothers with Adj. Gen. Warfield and other members of the staff were assembled, and as the head of the column came opposite His Excellency Col. Oakes and staff gave a handsome salute and the regiment was given an ovation for its handsome passage.

Arriving at the armory, the regiment was drawn up in column of companies, arms stacked and coats established, and this duty being performed the members marched over to the well laden tables and sat down to a substantial dinner provided by the hosts, while the officers were taken to headquarters and were the guests of the officers of the Maryland regiment.

Later the mayor and several leading citizens called to pay their respects to Col. Oakes and his officers, as did also Col. MacKinnon and Lieut. Col. Frank Spence of the 4th Maryland, the latter being a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company.

The afternoon and evening were given up to sightseeing, and scores of automobiles were pressed into the service. The visiting officers were driven out to one of the most attractive spots in the State, the Spring valley where they were royally entertained.

In the evening the officers were entertained at the Baltimore club and later at Ford's theatre.

MANY CLERGYMEN AT FUNERAL OF LATE REV. B. F. KINGSLEY

LYNN, March 2.—The funeral services for Rev. Benjamin Franklin Kingsley, pastor of the Maple street Methodist Episcopal church, whose death occurred in the church parsonage on Maple street on Friday morning, were held at the church yesterday afternoon. Rev. Joel M. Leonard of Melrose, superintendent of the Lynn district of the New England conference, spoke, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was read by Rev. Albert Woods of Newburyport, and the Scriptures were read by Rev. Ernest P. Herrick of Clinton and Rev. Charles W. Blackett of Malden.

Addresses were made by Rev. Geo. F. Durbin of Boston and Rev. George S. Butters of Melrose, in which they spoke in high terms of the work of Mr. Kingsley, prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Leonard and the benediction was given by Rev. C. A. Littlefield. The body was taken to Pine Grove cemetery for interment.

During the church service the music was in charge of Charles E. Balfour, organist, and the singing was by Mrs. Isabelle Butler. There was a beautiful display of floral offerings. The pall-bearers were Fred A. Barker of Worcester, Frank Way and Fred W. Sampson, also of Worcester, the latter being the commander of the Knights Templars commandery of that city; Charles H. Randall, Maj. Chase of R. K. Hunt, representing the Malden church. The ushers were Fred H. Vickers, William S. Potter, Lloyd S. Foye, Walter A. Vaughn, all members of the church.

"CHAIN BRIDGE"

FAMOUS STRUCTURE AT NEWBURYPORT TO GO

The Essex county commissioners have filed with the state harbor and land commission plans for the new bridge to supersede the famous "chain bridge" at Newburyport. The act now which the commission is working provides that the new structure shall follow the lines of the old bridge, but that perhaps the calling of it a new bridge is a misnomer.

The commission has filed a detailed plan, showing every feature of the present bridge and a second plan showing the new bridge in not quite so full detail. The cables of the new bridge will follow the old suspension chains, being given the same sweep from the top of one pier to the other.

The piers themselves will be considerably different. Instead of presenting the wedge shape appearance from the ground up that they have for years, they will have more the appearance of a trolley pole.

GIRL PERISHED

IN FIRE THAT DESTROYED HER HOME

LISBON, N. H., March 2.—From a young girl named Eva Lantagne was burned to death when the house occupied by her father, Edward Lantagne, and owned by W. M. Payne was damaged by fire yesterday.

The little girl was alone in an upper chamber and the flames had made such progress when discovered that her rescue was impossible.

Of the Dinner Given by the Philippine Party

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A rush of callers interrupted for a long walk in the afternoon, and attendance last night at the special dinner in his honor by the "Taft Philippine expedition," brought President-elect Taft to within two days of his inauguration, with less serious demands on his time than he has had during any day since his landing from Manila at New Orleans.

Charles Nagel of St. Louis, with Mrs. Nagel, are here and paid their respects to Mr. Taft. Frank H. Hitchcock is here from New York. He spent some time at the capitol yesterday and also saw Mr. Taft regarding matters which will arise directly after the inauguration. No other members of the Taft cabinet are in Washington, except Postmaster General Meyer and Secretary Wilson, who are attending to their respective duties in the Roosevelt cabinet.

A federal judgeship in northern Alabama brought to the Boardman residence yesterday afternoon a delegation in congress from that state headed by Representative Richardson. Mr. Taft went over the situation and listened to recommendations.

An informal tea, which is a feature at the Boardman afternoons, attracted yesterday many members of Washington's official and social life.

UNUSUAL HONOR

For Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman

WASHINGTON, March 2.—For the first time in the history of the country the wives of the president and vice president will, on Thursday, participate in the inaugural parade.

Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman will join their husbands when they leave the capitol after the ceremonies and will proceed with them to the White House.

This change of program was decided upon yesterday by the committee on arrangements, and following is the official announcement made by Senator Knox, the chairman.

"After the inaugural ceremonies are finished, the President and Mrs. Taft, escorted by the joint committee on arrangements will return to the White House."

The arrangement of carriages from the White House to the capitol will be:

1. The president, the president-elect, Senator Knox and Senator Lodge. 2. The vice president, Senator Bacon and Representative Burke. 3. Vice president-elect pro tempore, Representative Young and Representative Gains of Tennessee.

BLANKET OF SNOW

It Saved Bowdoinham, Me. From Big Fire

BOWDOINHAM, Me., March 2.—A blanket of snow saved this town early today from another conflagration. A sudden shift in the wind between 2 and 3 o'clock carried clouds of sparks up Pleasant street into the thickly settled section of the town from the burning lumber piles and the ruins of the building wood factory of the Standard Wood Co. which burned during the evening with a loss of $15,000. Fortunately the snow which began to fall within a few minutes of the wind change saved the situation and no further damage was done. The fire was not thoroughly under control until daylight.

A writer in the Dundee Courier says you can tell a man by his boots.

You can always tell the man that wears O'Sullivan's make shoes. They are made so different from other shoes that you're at once set down as well dressed if you have on a pair.

WE'RE equipped to build shoes different from those handled by any store in Lowell that deals in shoes.

WE'RE better fitted to do so today than ever before. Our aim is to sell more shoes this year than we ever did in one year, and the more we sell the lower we can make the price.

LOWELL BOXERS

Made Good Showing at Haverhill

Before the Haverhill Athletic club last evening Jack Desmond boxed an eight round draw with Ed Limerick of Haverhill, and the latter was declared to be one of the fastest 'scout' in Haverhill in five years. The affair was to have been of 10 rounds, but at the last moment Limerick wanted eight and got his way. In the preliminary Joe Pennington was easily made his first opponent in the ring in a six round draw with Ed Limerick of Haverhill. There was a large attendance, both Lowell boys and the best of it with their opponents. Pennington is now to the ring, but he is spoken of as a safe boxer.

STOPPED HORSE

WOMAN PLAYWRIGHT IN HEROIC ESCAPE

NEW YORK, March 2.—Miss Grace Livingston Furness, the playwright, who dramatized "The Man on the Box," is beginning to believe there is a London connected with that story of a coachman. Yesterday, for the third time within two years, she figured in a thrilling runaway, just as she did the heroine of the play.

She was carried with her niece, Miss Ruth Furness, behind a reindeer, driverless runaway horse, from Broadway and Forty-first street to Seventh avenue and Thirty-third street. But she escaped half a dozen chances of injury.

Miss Furness and her niece started from their home, the Hotel Carlton, in W. Fifty-fourth street, for a shopping tour in a hired coupe. The man on the box was William Croighton. He wasn't any hero disguised, though. He was just an ordinary driver. When they got as far as Forty-first street on Broadway, the horse was scared. Croighton tried to pull it up, broke the left-hand rein.

Then he yanked the right-hand rein, intending to run the horse into a pole to stop its flight. But a man got in the way and was knocked down on the sidewalk. His foot was injured. This man was Stephen Barbold, a salesman, of No. 109 West Eighty-seventh street. Other pedestrians were scattered in all directions.

DIED IN CAFE

MAN WAS STRICKEN ILL IN A CAR

NEW YORK, March 2.—John De Rivera, whose wife is Mrs. Belle De Rivera, president of the New York City Federation of Women's clubs, died suddenly last night in a cafe at 324 Second avenue where he had gone for help when suddenly stricken in the street. Mr. De Rivera told the proprietor, John Doris, that he felt ill and wanted to go down until an ambulance could come for him, because he felt that he was going to die. Dr. McLean was summoned from Bellevue, but before he arrived Mr. De Rivera was dead of a hemorrhage.

Reutemann, who has been in the service for about twenty years, received word yesterday from attorneys at Amsterdam, Holland, that he had come into possession of $50,000. He is married and has two children.

GETS $2900

BOY'S FATHER SETTLED A $15,000 SUIT

NEW YORK, March 2.—When the suit of Patrick Clark, as guardian for his son John, against the Richmond Light and Railroad company for $50,000 damages for personal injuries was called for trial yesterday before Justice Kelly in the supreme court, Brooklyn, it was announced that the case had been settled out of court. It was learned that the company had agreed to give the boy $10,000 and the father $2,900.

On Sept. 16, 1906, when the family lived at New Brighton, Staten Island, the boy, who was then 12 1/2 years old, was run over by a sprinkler car belonging to the company and both arms were cut off. There was a trial of the case in Richmond county in October, 1907, and it resulted in a disagreement. The case was subsequently transferred to Kings county, the family having moved to Brooklyn.

Is still doing business at the same old stand, and Humphrey O'Sullivan is still Treasurer.

The Merrimack Clothing Company is on a live wire. It will be second to no clothing house in the United States, and up to date. It will simply be in a class by itself in Lowell.

After the 10th of March the people of Lowell will see a clothing store with every new appointment that is practicable. The Merrimack does not wish to take any trade from its competitors, but it will be pleased to see how the public appreciates the new arrangements of displaying clothing in cases. All the tables will be thrown overboard.

The Merrimack is a winner and a leader. Watch what it will do. It will be interesting to you if you have money to spend. You can save a little by trading here. The Merrimack has ample cash to discount its purchases. The customer gets the benefit of that cash. Your money will buy more at the Merrimack than at any other store in Massachusetts.

Steel Trust Absorption Changed From "Wet" to "Dry"

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Culberson bill directing the committee on the judiciary to report to the senate whether in its opinion the president was authorized to permit the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Co. by the United States Steel corporation was reported to the senate today by Senator Clark, chairman of the committee. As agreed yesterday by the committee its report was without recommendation. Mr. Clark said that the committee had been unable to agree upon any particular form of report or answer. He added that members of the committee would individually submit their views to the senate.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The general deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the grant supply measures of the government to be acted on by the senate was reported today by Mr. Hale from the committee on appropriations. He said it would at once be printed and be passed today, thus avoiding a night session. He added that the pending time in which congress would be in session would be needed for action on the many conference reports still to be considered.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—That the temperance tide in Massachusetts is still rising, was shown today in a compilation of the returns from the annual meetings in 194 out of 183 towns, as thirteen changed from "wet" to "dry" and two from "dry" to "wet." Last year 25 out of 221 towns voted in favor of liquor selling.

Next week and during April the balance of the towns in the state will also vote on the liquor question but up to today the sentiment in favor of no-liquor seems to be gaining.

SUGAR PROFIT SUPREME COURT

Was Explained by Secretary Heike Returned a Verdict of $157,884

NEW YORK, March 2.—That the average profit to the American Sugar Refining Co. on the sale of a pound of sugar is 1-10 of a cent, was testified by J. H. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining Co. today in the government's suit against the sugar company to recover customs duties alleged to have been lost by shortage in weights. Mr. Heike said he knew little about the method of weighing the sugar when imported.

"Would you say in the duty paid to the government, as into the general assets of the company?" asked United States District Attorney Stimson.

"Certainly, any honest saving," replied Mr. Heike.

"Would railroad rates, for instance, go into these assets?" inquired Mr. Stimson.

The question was ruled out by the court.

ADMIRAL SPERRY

Declines the Presidency of Naval War College

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Rear Admiral Charles Sperry today made formal application to be relieved from duty as commander-in-chief of the Atlantic battleship fleet and Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder has been appointed in his place.

Admiral Sperry was tendered the presidency of the naval war college but declined the position, indicating his preference for subordinate duty there.

EXPERT TESTIFIES

He Tells About Use of Firearms at Cooper Trial

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 2.—The fact that the rebuttal witnesses for the state had been summoned to be in court today for the Carmack murder trial indicated that the case for the defense was almost completed.

The state purposes to make another attempt to get before the jury the fact that Senator Carmack, so far from feeling angry, scoffed at the idea of trouble and armed himself only to relieve the anxiety of his friends. Judge Hart ruled this testimony out upon cross-examination of the defense's witness, but the prosecution will offer it as part of its rebuttal testimony.

W. M. Seltzer, a witness for the defense, said he was an expert on firearms and testified as to the kind of bullets used in an automatic pistol. Gen. Garner of the state said:

"I hand you Senator Carmack's revolver. Examine it and tell whether or not the cylinder can be revolved for pulling the trigger."

The witness experimented and said: "It can be turned only by pulling the trigger."

This flatly contradicted the testimony of yesterday when it was sworn that Carmack was testing his revolver a few minutes before the tragedy by whirling the cylinder with his finger.

The next witness, W. S. Morgan, told of hearing the shots of sniping out of his apartment and of meeting Mrs. Eastman, who was hysterical.

"Did she say Col. Cooper said, 'That's a dastardly coward, hiding behind a woman'?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did she say he said, 'Now we have the drop on you'?"

"No, sir."

He said Mrs. Eastman gave him the impression that Col. Cooper had shot Carmack without giving him a chance.

LABOR LEADERS

Will Attend Hearing at the State House Tomorrow

Representatives of local labor unions, Mayor Brown and others will go to Boston tomorrow to attend a hearing on house bill number 138, an act to constitute eight hours a day's work for public employees. The hearing is scheduled for 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Asked today if he would attend the hearing, City Solicitor Duncan said: "I have not been instructed either by the city council or the mayor to attend the hearing, and unless they do instruct me I presume I will not attend."

Mr. Duncan said he thought it would be a good plan in cases of hearings on such bills for the city council to appoint a committee to look into the matter and to instruct the city solicitor.

Unless the city solicitor is so instructed he would not know just what position to take in the matter and would not feel like going to Boston at the expense of the city unless he had instructions from the mayor or the city council. In the case of a law suit, of course, the city solicitor would not need any instructions, but suits and hearings are two different things.

"There are two eight hour bills before the legislature," said Mr. Duncan. "House bill number 138 has been given a hearing, in part, and I understand that the advocates of that bill are willing to withdraw if the other, house bill number 78, meets with general approval."

The last named bill is more radical than the other. It reads that to require or permit an employee to work more than eight hours a day, except in cases of extraordinary emergencies, is a violation of the right to work for which penalty is provided.

"The other provides that the working by any public employee more than eight hours in one calendar day is prima facie evidence that the person has been requested or required to do so."

That is a much milder form, and if he requires a permit (emphasis on the permit) an employee to exceed the eight hour calendar day. Personally, however, I prefer bill number 78 even though it is more radical.

POLICE BOARD

MAYOR'S COUNSEL EXAMINING BOOKS

Commissioner Boulger Laid Up With a Cold—Decisions May Be Given Out Tonight

The third of a series of sessions for the purpose of examining the books and records of the police department and board of police was held today at the office of the police board. Mayor Brown, who is the instigator of the investigation, was not present, but his counsel were and the greater part of the day was spent in examining the books and making notes.

When counsel arrived Commissioner Charles H. Boulger was on hand to welcome them and a few minutes later Chairman Frank K. Stearns arrived on the scene, and tranquility prevailed during the day.

Commissioner Thomas P. Boulger was not present owing to the fact that he is confined to his home with a serious cold and may not be able to attend to his duties for several days.

The board will meet in regular session tonight but if Mr. Boulger is absent, as is expected, only routine business will be transacted. In the event of Mr. Boulger being able to attend the meeting it is expected that decisions will be given out in the Lowell Inn case and the charges preferred against Patrolman Kilroy.

JOHN P. FARLEY

Will be Re-appointed as Registrar

Mayor Brown will reappoint John P. Farley to the board of registrars. This statement was made last night and was today affirmed by the mayor. The appointment will go to the board of aldermen this evening for confirmation.

A RECEIVER

HAS BEEN ASKED FOR GERMAN THEATRE

NEW YORK, March 2.—Justice O'Gorman of the supreme court reserved decision yesterday on an application by Maurice Baumfield for an injunction to restrain the directors of the German theatre, Inc., from turning over any of the property, fixtures or furniture in the theatre to any one but Baumfield. Mr. Baumfield also wants a receiver appointed for the property, including the box office receipts, save only enough to pay the actors, orchestra members and stage hands.

It was asserted in court by Herbert Limburg, counsel for the plaintiff, who is suing to recover $4500 balance of salary alleged to be due him as manager of the theatre, that when a deputy sheriff went to levy on the theatre property he was informed that it had all been transferred to Mme. Melica Blitz, wife of the president of the board of directors, and that even the lease and box office receipts had been assigned to her.

Counsel for the theatre, George E. Joseph, replied that Mrs. Blitz had loaned the theatre corporation $14,000, and that the assignments to her were simply as security for these loans and were perfectly legal and fair. Mr. Joseph added that the theatre had not made a dollar of profit so far this season, and the corporation was forced to borrow the money to keep things going.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Carl Fischer-Hansen, the lawyer, who pleaded guilty to subornation of perjury, left the Tombs yesterday afternoon to begin his year's sentence in the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island. He was in charge of Deputy Sheriff Delahanty and Spelman.

Fischer-Hansen had announced that he would not leave the Tombs until Thursday. To escape the station yesterday he left the prison by way of the criminal courts building. With the deputy sheriffs he went to the central street subway station and rode to Fifty-ninth street, completing the journey to the East river on a cross.

South of Blackwell's Island street he boarded Blackwell's Island ferry.

After the prisoner's release, he had been taken he was photographed. Then he got a shave, a prison hair cut and a bath and was fitted out with a regulation circular striped prison suit. He was temporarily assigned to a cell on the third tier. He will get his permanent place of abode today and will be assigned to some sort of work.

LONDON, March 2.—The library of Lincoln's Inn, which has been open for 200 years by judges and lawyers for purposes of research, has been spoiled of some of its greatest treasures, dating from the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

The loss has only been discovered, and a search is being made to recover them. It has been reported in the history for a year past.

EX-PRES. CASTRO

CARACAS, March 1, via Willemstad, March 2.—Should Cipriano Castro, former president of this republic, attempt to return to the country he will face the possibility of arrest by the government the moment he disembarks because he has been criminally indicted in the federal court on the charge of having conspired to effect the assassination of Juan M. Guzman, the present president.

The report that Castro proposes to embark at Bordeaux for La Guaira has been received here with much interest.

Castro's entire fortune is in Venezuela and it will all be lost to him unless he returns. It is generally believed here that he will now devote his energies to protecting his interests.

OFF TO WASHINGTON

Thirty-five members of Company K, Sixth regiment, left Lowell on the 2:41 train for Boston to represent the famous old Sixth at the inauguration exercises in Washington. Washington, Baltimore and the country in that vicinity will ever keep green the memory of the Sixth Massachusetts regiment, and the name is an "open sesame" for its members when in that country.

The command left the army in charge of Second Lieutenant John Davis and will proceed under his direction to New York where it will be joined tomorrow by Captain J. N. Greig. The members had hoped that the captain would be with them all the way, but he went to Boston today to attend a bowling game tonight and will take the midnight train for New York. The members of Company K will take the 4:30 train from the South station, Boston, for Fall River and thence proceed to New York. From New York they will ferry to Jersey City and then take the train for Washington. Quite a number of Lowellians accompanied them, among whom was Philip J. Breen, secretary of Lowell council, Knights of Columbus.

THE CANAL CASE

Warrants Will Be Issued at Same Time

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Special Assistant McNamara to the attorney general in the Panama prosecution, has returned from Chicago. He said today that the warrants will be served at about the same time in New York, Boston and Indianapolis.

Mr. McNamara denied that the postponement of the service of the warrants to New York was in any measure affected by the fact that President Roosevelt is expected in New York on the evening of March 4. It is rumored that early next week efforts would be made to apprehend at least one of the persons charged in the indictment.

U. S. District Attorney Baker today indicated a rumor that the suit had been withdrawn.

"You need not worry about any withdrawal," he added laughingly.

MURDER OF GIRL JEWELS STOLEN

The Police Have a New Theory They Were Taken by Woman's Son

HAMILTON, Ont., March 2.—The original theory that Ethel Kinrade, who was shot to death last week, was killed by a tramp, has been entirely discarded by the police. At the inquest on Wednesday night Florence Kinrade, sister of the murdered girl and the only known eyewitness of the tragedy, will tell her story and it is believed, make it possible to name the murderer.

A police officer who was at the scene of the murder fifteen minutes after it happened discovered a clue entirely overlooked by others. This is a woman's neck scarf covered with blood, picked up in the back yard near the footprints which Florence Kinrade says she left when she ran to the fence behind the house for the purpose of making her escape.

According to Florence Kinrade's story, she ran from the house when the shots were fired and then returned to grapple with the murderer, who escaped by the front of the house. No one but herself, according to her story, went into the back yard, and she will be asked to explain how this blood covered article came to be there. The detective now has the theory that the murder was deliberate. Seven shots were fired into the dead girl's body. They were .32 calibre, and as there are no seven chamber guns of that size made the murderer either had two revolvers or reloaded the one used. An automatic revolver could not have been used, since nickel bullets were used in the automatics and lead bullets were used in this case.

Detective Miller was elocated with Florence Kinrade for over an hour yesterday morning. She went into hysterics when directly questioned on certain points in her story. It seems certain that Ethel was dead some time before the police were notified, and when found by McNichol, one of the first on the scene, her face was covered with a handkerchief. The girl was green and white, and was supposed to be wearing when she was found no shot holes, although her waist and inner garments were badly torn and burned.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 2.—An attempt by Westmore Meehan, son of John T. Meehan, the New York restaurant man, to sell his mother's diamond sunburst brooch for $50 on the street here yesterday resulted in the arrest of the boy and Charles Benz and John O'Donnell, his young companions, who had come to the shore to have a time on the proceeds of a looting of Mrs. Meehan's jewel box.

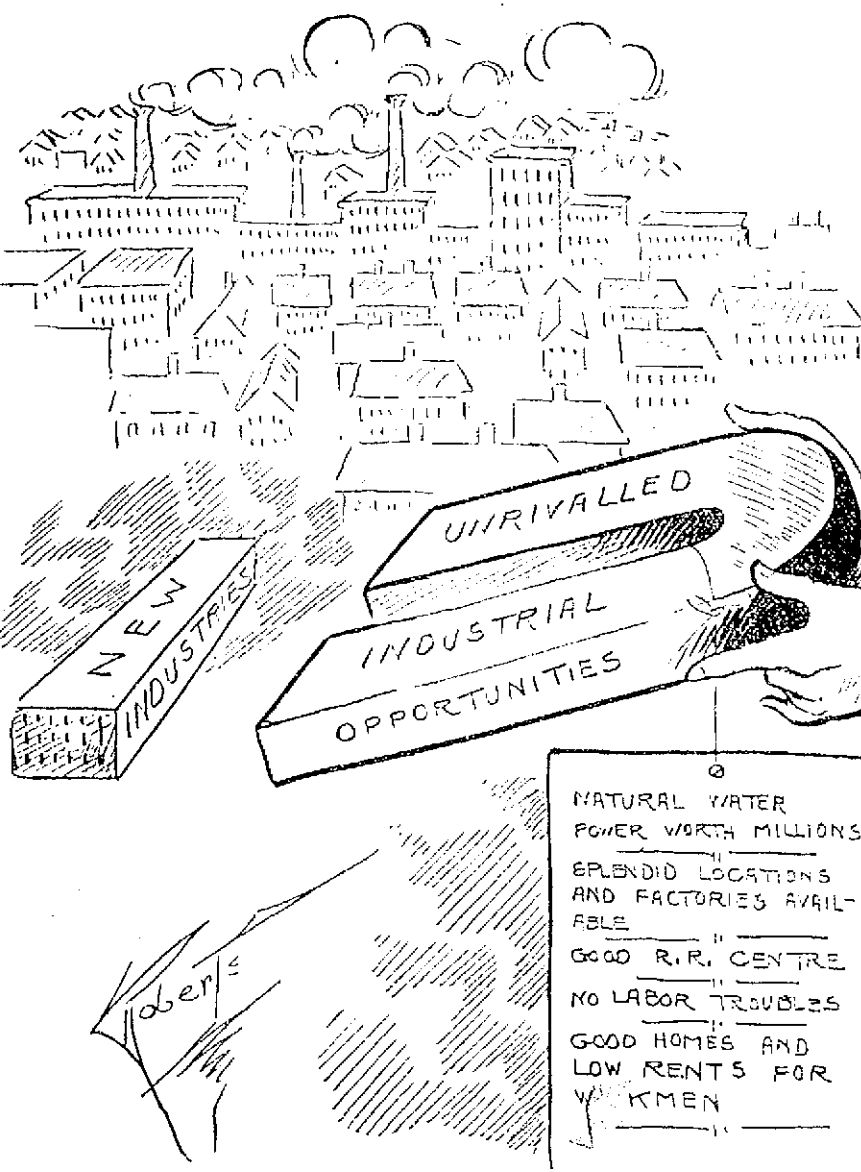

Despite the pleas of the boys, none of whom is over 17 years, they were locked up in a cell at police headquarters after the jewels which they had stolen had been recovered. Those jewels are said to be worth $5000. Mr. and Mrs. Meehan are here today trying to have the charges quashed. They want to take their boy back to New York.

According to the story which the police got from the boys they decided to have a seashore trip with fine trimmings. To get funds they took the jewels of Mrs. Meehan.

The Atlantic City police having been notified of the loss and the suspicion that the Meehan boy had been among the thieves were on the lookout for the three this morning when they were notified that a strange young man was trying to dispose of a handsome diamond brooch at a ridiculously low price. Detective Barnshaw traced the three boys to a big beach front hotel, where they were arrested. Search of their rooms resulted in finding practically all of the stolen jewels and the boys admitted that they had taken them for the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Meehan came here as soon as they were informed of their son's arrest and pleaded with Captain of Detectives Whalen last night to release him and his companions and stop proceedings that might land them in jail for their escapades.

The boys are badly scared over the prospect of being taken back to New York under guard to stand trial for the theft, and it is likely that the police here will consent to free them on condition of their pledge to be good.

LOWELL HAS A POWERFUL MAGNET POSSESSING ALL THE SPLENDID QUALITIES TO ATTRACT

FRAUD CHARGED

G. A. R. MAN WAS PLACED UNDER ARREST

NEW YORK, March 2.—James Cunningham, who has been in the undertaking business at 158 Duane street, Brooklyn, for 50 years and has been prominent in Grand Army circles, was arrested yesterday by government agents on a charge of drawing pension money by false representations. When arrested before United States Commissioner Benedict he pleaded guilty and was released in $2000 bail for examination next Monday. He declined for the present to make any statement about the matter.

It is alleged that in affidavits filed with the pension bureau at Washington, Cunningham set forth that he served in Company D of the 156th New York Volunteers in the Civil war under the name of Edwin Walker, under which name he declared he enlisted. On the strength of the affidavits he received a discharge made out in the name of James Cunningham. In December, 1904, he made a declaration for a pension and got $5 a month, and later on this was raised to $8 a month on his own application. So far he has drawn about $400 in pension money.

AGED FATHER

MUST BE SUPPORTED BY HIS SON

NEW YORK, March 2.—In order that white haired, feeble Richard Pritchard, 72 years old, who served with distinction as a quartermaster during the Civil war may not suffer in his old age, Justice Spinnell, in the supreme court, Brooklyn, yesterday directed the man's son John to sell his home at 507 Putnam avenue and devote $1500 for the care of his father in some institution.

The old man told a pathetic story. He alleged that 12 years ago, when his son, a pilot on a local ferry, married, he gave John and the bride the house and property mentioned, with the understanding that they should care for him after he was unable to work. The property was then worth about $5000, he says.

The old sailor was working in the yard, but about a year ago, through illness, he had to cease work. He received a pension of $12 a month, which, he says, he gave to his son. He says he was not well taken care of thereafter, and had at times to sleep in his hat and trousers because John would not have a draught window repaired. He also said that John would not get him medical attention or medicine when he became ill three weeks ago.

The old man went afterward to live with friends at 123 Spencer place. He then started the proceedings which ended yesterday, and probably will finish his days in an institution. His son John and the latter's wife deny his allegations in the suit.

RIGHT TO CEMETERY

LEADS TO LAW SUIT IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 2.—The quarrel over the right of any family to bury a deceased member in old St. John's cemetery, at Oskadee, L. I., where for forty years no interment had been made until a few days ago, developed another phase yesterday.

John Bushby, caretaker of the dilapidated St. John's church and the cemetery, tore a mass of flowers from the grave of Richard U. Van, of Sayville, whose body is alleged to have been surreptitiously interred after death by members of his family or friends had forced the lock of the cemetery safe.

SUES HUSBAND

WIFE SAYS THAT HE NEGLECTED HER

NEW YORK, March 2.—Edward F. Church was formerly president of South Orange, N. J., and according to his wife, Isabelle, led an exemplary life until 1902. She is suing him for a separation now and Justice Newburger in the supreme court reserved decision in the suit yesterday.

Church was already a widower with three children when he married the present plaintiff 30 years ago. They have three children of their own, two of whom live with Mrs. Church at 521 West 123d street, and the wife says that she is compelled to rely for her support on the earnings of these two, as since 1902 her husband has neglected her.

About that time, she says, and while they were still living in South Orange, Mr. Church began to develop a taste for liquor. As South Orange was a dry town on Sundays he brought home a quart bottle of whiskey Saturdays, and it was empty Monday morning. Church, who is a dry goods salesman, testified in his own defence that he had not neglected his family, but that when he met with severe financial reverses his wife refused to live in the home he was able and willing to provide for her, because it was not as comfortable as their old home in South Orange.

BIG AUTO RACE

DISTANCE FROM COAST TO COAST TO BE COVERED

CHICAGO, March 2.—Tom Moore of New York who is booming the coast to coast automobile race, is here with glowing accounts of the wave of motor interest sweeping through the north-west in the van of the coming grind. Save for a few of the minor details everything in connection with the big run has been completed and the finishing touches are being put on March 15 when the pathfinders will start over their four thousand mile journey. While in Seattle Mr. Moore arranged with the officials of the Alaskan-Yukon exposition to have the fair and the race start simultaneously on June 1 with the pressing of a button in Washington. The route will be from New York to Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne and to Granger. From Granger the course is unsettled and will be mapped out during the present month.

REV. DR. MARCH DEAD

WOBURN, March 2.—Rev. Daniel March, D. D., a well known New England theologian and pastor emeritus of the First Congregational church of this city, died at the home of Deacon Frank B. Richardson today after an illness of some weeks.

Dr. March was born in Millbury, Mass., in 1816 and graduated from Yale in the class of 1839. He received the degree of master of arts from the Yale theological school and that of doctor of divinity from the western university of Pennsylvania. After serving many years as pastor in Boston and Philadelphia, he came here in 1870 and has been identified with the local church work ever since. He was the author of a number of theological works.

PRESIDENT-ELECT

HAD MANY SENATORS AS CALLERS TODAY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—With no pretensions to begin the day President-elect Taft anticipated another period of comparative ease and quiet to prepare him for the arduous duties that confront him.

Notwithstanding the death of President-elect Taft, senators from the various states began to present themselves at the Boardman residence at an early hour. These were rather calls of respect than business or political undertakings.

Mr. Taft contemplates a long walk this afternoon. He continues to be in fine spirit and health.

WENT NO-LICENSE

Dracut Goes Into the "Dry" Column by 20 Votes

MARTIN J. BANKS

WALTER F. GARLAND

TWO CANDIDATES TIED IN CONTEST FOR SELECTMAN.

Bassett and Jones Elected Selectmen — Banks and Garland are Tied for Third Place — James J. McManmon Was Re-Elected Town Treasurer — Brennan Wins Out for Town Clerk

The annual town meeting of Dracut was held yesterday and proved to be one of the most enthusiastic and interesting in the history of the town. Despite the fact that indications pointed towards a sweeping victory for the democrats, the republicans made a clean sweep of the choice offices and the town went no-license by a small majority.

Herbert C. Jones and Fred A. Bassett, republicans, were elected selectmen and Walter F. Garland, republican and Martin J. Banks, democrat, were tied for the third place. The result of the election was as follows:

W. Colburn, R., 312; William H. Curran, D., 282; blanks, 25.

Auditor, Lawrence J. Brennan, D., 216; Conant W. Udell, R., 202; blanks, 45.

School committee (three elected)—Nelson E. Huntley, R., 303; Corliss M. Smith, R., 291; Moses L. Dalgic, D., 271; George St. Leger, D., 271; Edward W. Bennett, R., 263; Edward Bromley, D., 263; blanks, 47.

Trustees of the public library for three years (two elected)—Rose E. Peabody, R., 307; Stephen R. Kitchen, R., 296; William F. Bromley, D., 237; George P. Fogarty, D., 230; blanks, 176.

Tree warden—Chester B. Colburn, R., 317; Thomas McNamara, D., 265; blanks, 31.

Cemetery commissioner for three years—Albert Hamblett, R., 317; Jas. Abbott, D., 237; blanks, 92.

Cemetery commissioner for one year—

John W. Peabody, R., 311; Frank A. Farrell, D., 247; blanks, 82.

License—No. 170; yes, 153; blanks, 57.

The following business was transacted late in the afternoon and did not appear in yesterday's issue of The Sun.

Article 25 provided for the appropriation of $1000 to be paid the Dracut water supply district for hydrant service during the year 1909. Oliver J. Colburn, though a resident of the district, appeared as a remonstrant, and the article was lost.

The appropriation for the support of the public library was acted upon yesterday in the day, having come under the recommendations for appropriations made by the selectmen and article 26 relative to the same was dismissed.

Article 26, providing for an appropriation of $100 for funding and grading the grounds about the Graceland school was voted $100 as to read the improving grounds and the amount called for was $1200.

The money was voted and James W. May, John T. Dracut and Alfred Hamblett were the three voters of the work.

The following article called for an appropriation of $100 for establishing three watering troughs, but it was dismissed.

Article 27, asked for $100 for cutting the roadside bushes in district 11, East Dracut.

J. Edwin Kennedy appeared to the voters to grant the request of the people.

tion as the roads in the section mentioned were about choked with the growth along the roads, making the latter almost impassable at times and places.

The article was adopted after considerable discussion.

The sum of $200 was called for in the next article for the grading of the Parker avenue school grounds. Messrs. N. E. Huntley and Harry Moxley spoke in favor of the article and it was passed.

George St. Leger, Hiram E. Linscott and Selden Colburn are the committee appointed to look after the carrying out of the provisions of the article voted.

Under article 32, which called for a vote to be taken in regard to the finance committee and elect members to the same, it was voted to discharge all members of the same and likewise dismiss the article.

The following article was relative to the pay of the selectmen for their services during the year, and to fix an amount which those officials should receive yearly.

Harry W. Barnes submitted statistics of the salaries paid similar boards in neighboring towns, and moved that the governing body of Dracut receive the following compensation. Chairman, $25, and the other two members $18.50 per year. This was amended so as to read $250 for the chairman and $200 each for the other members.

The amendment was lost, and the previous motion prevailed so that the figures stand $255 chairman, and $187.50 each for the two other members.

Article 36—"To see if the town will vote to amend and alter section 2 of article 4, of the by-laws of the town so as to read as follows:

"Section 3—All taxes assessed in each year, except poll taxes, shall be paid on or before October 31, next following, and all taxes paid on or before that date shall be subject to a discount of 2 per cent. thereon. Bills for poll taxes shall be due within 10 days of presentation."

The recommendation of $200 made in the estimates of appropriations relative to street lighting was left over from the early part of the meeting pending the action of the meeting on the several new lights called for in the year.

Last year's appropriation was $2000 and the close of the year found a balance of $580.92. As no lights were voted for during the meeting at the conclusion of the latter the sum of $2000 was raised for street lighting.

Moderator Stevens appointed Almon Richardson, J. Edwin Kennedy and Philip Grant as a building committee on the East Dracut school voted for during the day.

It was voted in conclusion that the month work for the ensuing year be done by the tree warden.

GIVES $2500

TO PROMOTE THE STUDY OF AERONAUTICS

BERLIN, March 2.—Ludwig Gastav Von Sollen und Hallbach, who married a daughter of Herr Krupp, the gun-maker, has contributed $2500 to the aeronautics professorship recently founded at Göttingen and he has pledged an equal sum every year. The Krupp concern has taken up the subject of air engineering with energy, having organized a section of the construction of ships to be used against air craft. The concern already has two model ships, one for discharging explosive shells and the other throwing a burning projectile.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE MET

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 2.—For the first time in its history the National Consumers' League held its annual meeting in this city today. A preliminary conference took place this afternoon while this evening will be devoted to speaking. Among the speakers will be Robert Wood, Boston and Mrs. Frederick Nathan of the New York City Consumers' league.

A CIGAR STUB

Started Fire Causing $75,000 Loss

MEDFORD, March 2.—A little flame probably caused by a lighted cigar stub or a match carelessly cast into a barn started a fire today that destroyed the wire factory of Oliver Whyte, a barn and two blacksmith shops and damaged E. Teel & Co.'s carriage top factory and two residences. The loss is estimated at $75,000. So rapidly did the flames spread and so threatening was the fire, that assistance was summoned from the neighboring cities of Malden and Melrose by the flying sparks.

All the burned buildings were located on Swan street on the southwest side of Mystic river and just south of Medford square. The rain also prevented many of the numerous factories along both shores of the river from being set on fire by the flying sparks. Total loss $90,000.

THE GAS REBATES

Sum of $100,000 Was Paid Out

NEW YORK, March 2.—The work of paying the gas rebates was begun at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and continued until 5 o'clock in the afternoon with a good steady stride and with little misunderstanding and less disorder. The uptown bureaus had no trouble at all, sending out checks by mail as fast as they reached the names on the books.

At 104 Chrystie street and to a certain extent at 32 Fifth avenue, which office had to do with a part of the Italian quarter, the course of affairs ran less smoothly, but even in these two districts there was much less trouble than had been expected. Many of those who went to the bureaus with their little roll of yellow receipts in their hands expected to get their money right away, and in a good many cases it had to be explained at some length that checks would be sent out as soon as possible.

At the Chrystie street bureau the word "check" sounded as good as real money to most of the people, who were of the Jewish race and who, although deficient in English, knew considerable about business methods and certainly enough to know that the check of the gas companies was as good as money. The uneducated Italians were less easily appeased, however, and some of them shook their heads and for a moment or two were pretty sure that some sort of a trick was being played upon them.

Those who had to do with the distribution in these quarters were reminded occasionally of the frenzied runs on banks which are a common enough feature of the life in these districts. There was a goodly line at the beginning of the distribution, and when the men, women and children of the neighborhood saw the line and had inquired what it meant they all ran home for their receipts and then ran back again to take their places in the line, apparently, with the notion that they must get their money right away or never.

Approximately $100,000 was paid out yesterday. The checks mailed numbered 2000. At this rate it would take four months to pay $1,000,000.

W. H. TILFORD DEAD

NEW YORK, March 2.—W. H. Tilford, one of the vice presidents of the Standard Oil Co., died at his home in this city today.

NIGHT EDITION

INSPECTOR SILVIA

NEW BEDFORD, March 2.—The conduct of Private W. C. Howard, the United States artilleryman who is on trial here for the murder of his wife, Ida Howard, after the finding of his wife's body on Sept. 20 last, was the subject with which District Attorney Swift of Fall River opened today's proceedings in the superior court. A densely crowded courtroom again followed the testimony with eager interest and once more the young defendant sat in an apparently contented frame of mind while the government continued in its efforts to prove him an uxoriacide.

John Friley, a fellow soldier with Howard at the Fort Rodman garrison, opened the testimony by stating that he received a letter from Howard on Tuesday, Sept. 22, in which Howard asked Friley to say that he, Howard, had been with Friley at the post hospital on the previous Saturday evening. Howard also asked Friley to destroy the letter.

Charles Lamoureux mentioned in Miss Sturtevant's testimony yesterday as the man with whom Mrs. Howard, according to Miss Sturtevant's testimony, said she was going driving today that he knew any of the parties in the case. He said he never went driving with anybody and that he was a married man and had a family. He heard Howard use abusive language towards Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. W. C. Grimshaw, proprietress of a clam bake pavilion near the fort, said that on Sept. 5, Ida Howard and a Mrs. Anna Bradford met the defendant near her place so that she could bear part of the conversation. Howard seemed to be trying to get his wife to sign a paper but she refused. Mrs. Howard asked her husband for money but he refused to give her all he had as he said that he wanted some for himself.

For the benefit of the medical experts and hearing on the question of the possible decomposition or other changes in Ida Howard's body after death, the district attorney put in the city engineer's record of the temperature of September 13 and 20. Inspector Frank Silvia then took the stand to testify to statements made to him by Howard at the time of his arrest for the Dewhurst shooting and after the finding of his wife's body.

On the occasion of the Dewhurst case Howard said:

"I know my wife gave me away. She'll suffer for this some day. I'll get even with her. I'll fix her. After his acquittal when witness let him out of the dock and urged him to go to his wife, Howard said:

"Go hell with her. I don't want nothing to do with her; she can go to hell."

Witness told of Howard's identifying his wife's body on Tryon's float apparently by the coat.

An important part of Mr. Silvia's testimony was that when he saw the body the lips were puffed and there were bluish marks across both lips and nose.

Coming to Howard's examination in the office of the chief of police Howard told this story:

That he had not left the reservation Saturday night, that at six o'clock he

"When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papas and I got on her forehead. At that time the child was covered with prickly heat and I suppose in scratches. She even had become infected so it broke out in boils, one after another. She had about sixty in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her of them entirely. Then, sometime later, her little foot got sore between the toes. Being afraid it was half covered. The humor looked like a scald, very red with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every year. I think it was toward the spring. I always bathed it with warm water and Cuticura Soap and applied Cuticura Ointment which never failed to heal it up. The last time it broke out was when she was six years old. It became so bad that I was discouraged. Then I procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent which soon cleared it out of her blood. I continued the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment with the Resolvent until she was perfectly well. She is now about eight years old and has never been troubled in the last two years. We also find Cuticura Resolvent a good spring medicine and we are just giving the children Cuticura Resolvent Pills as a tonic. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly. SOCIETY INTERESTED IN CABINET MEMBERS' WIVES

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Society interest centers just now in the "organization" of the social cabinet and particularly in the personalities of the wives of the members of Mr. Taft's cabinet. Of these Mrs. Philander C. Knox is easily the best known woman at the capital. Thousands of persons have remarked upon the lovely appearance of Senator Knox. Mrs. Knox is far more than a beautiful woman in the new cabinet circle. She is a woman of high artistic ideals and is also a woman of high social life. Her home in Seattle is noted for hospitality. Mrs. Wickersham is a New York woman and a close friend of Mrs. Henry W. Taft. Mrs. Wickersham has just bought a home in Washington at a cost of $100,000, which will be the scene of many society events in the

NORTHFIELD, Vt., March 2.—A type of barrel which is said to kill without the noise of the gun is to be introduced into the market and to make black powder practically obsolete has been publicly demonstrated before members of the Northfield Gun club the past week.

The inventor, Joseph C. Goddard, was graduated from Northfield University in 1905 and since then has spent most of his time in perfecting this device. He explains that it differs from the Maxim invention in that the latter is an attachment to be placed on the end of the gun barrel, while his is a part of the gun, consisting of a thin steel rod extending the full length of the barrel.

In the demonstration here a 400-mile United States Navy rifle which could be heard by men stationed three miles distant was so noiseless that it could be heard only by the hands away.

BRONZE TABLET

Suggested For Ladd and Whitney Monument

Gen. Edward F. Jones, former lieutenant governor of New York and the old colonel of the Sixth regiment during the Civil war, is most desirous that the memory of Private Charles A. Taylor, killed in Baltimore, shall be properly honored. He suggests a bronze tablet to be placed on the Ladd and Whitney monument and he is willing to bear the expense himself if permitted to do so.

He suggests that the tablet be unveiled on Patriots day, and he is willing to come to Lowell to direct matters in connection with it.

Gen. Jones writes Mayor Brown as follows:

February 27, 1909.

Hon. George H. Brown, Mayor, Lowell, Mass.

Sir—It is desired by the surviving comrades of the Old Sixth Massachusetts regiment to fitly recognize monumentally the memory of Charles A. Taylor, the first to fall in defense of the Union at the opening of the late Civil war. He died at the hand of the mob in Baltimore on the 19th of April, 1861. He enlisted in Capt. Hart's Co. D, as the regiment was leaving Boston on the 15th of April, and was not in uniform at the time of his death. Not according to one of the soldiers, from this fact his body was not returned to Massachusetts with those of Needham, Ladd and Whitney. A monument was erected at Lawrence to the memory of Needham and at Lowell to that of Ladd and Whitney. Why this neglect to remember Taylor has never been considered. Unfortunately, we have never been able to gain any knowledge as to the relatives of our dead comrade, though diligent inquiry has from time to time been made. It is not too late to make such amends as we are able. The proposition is to place, with suitable ceremonies, a commemorative tablet on the present Ladd and Whitney monument, with such inscription as conditions demand. What seems the most practicable position is to cover, with a bronze tablet, the inscription:

"Nothing is here for tears,—nothing to wall, or knock the breast; no weakness, no contempt, Dispraise or blame; nothing but well and true."

And what may quiet us in a death so noble."

The sentiment is very grand, no doubt, but there is at least one who does not understand it, and feels that the occupancy of this space to the memory of Taylor must meet with the approval of all who are interested. The tablet of the space is 22 1/2 inches by 14 1/2 inches. The Murdock-Shaw Co. has been requested to inform your Honor of the cost of the tablet installed on the monument. The amount is comparatively insignificant, and if the city of Lowell does not see fit to pay for it, it can be raised by subscription, rather than have our comrade's memory longer neglected. I would pay for the same, if the city government will give me the necessary permission but no doubt the people of Lowell, through its city government, will claim the right to honor as proposed, the memory of Charles A. Taylor.

The ceremonies of unveiling should be in accordance with the demands of the occasion, and should be at least a city affair, and if practicable, joined by the state of Massachusetts.

Permit me to make a suggestive program. I'll leave the mayor, presiding; an opening prayer; singing of "America"; such address as the mayor or may choose to make; short address by the old commander of the regiment; an oration by, perhaps, the governor of the commonwealth; poem by the Hon. Charles M. Dickinson, for eight years consul general at Constantinople, and since consul at large for the United States, written for the occasion and read by him.

The above are only suggestions and must not be considered in any sense dictatorial, and if not approved, must be excused on the ground of my great interest in the affair. If desirable, I will come to Lowell to consult with the program committee, should the honorable council take such action as we hope for. If His Excellency, the governor, is to be asked to deliver the oration, it should be done immediately to prevent a previous engagement.

Trusting that the honorable common council of the city of Lowell will take immediate and favorable action, I am, Verily,

Edward F. Jones.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Twenty-four horses, worth $10,000, the property of John W. Dolan, a contractor at No. 216 East Thirty-eighth street, have died of arsenical poisoning at his stables in Corona, L. I., within four months, the last two yesterday. The police of the village are puzzling over the mystery.

An enemy of Dolan, or an enemy of animals in general, must be blamed, it is believed, as the horses all died soon after nibbling at grass in a four-acre lot adjoining the Dolan stables. Two dogs and 110 chickens belonging to a neighbor also were killed by the poison.

On Sunday five horses died, among them Dolan's $1,000 driving horse, a prize trotter. When he lost this animal Dolan notified the police and had veterinarians examine the bodies of all the others. Each was a victim of arsenic.

The Corona police at first believed there might be diseased condition in the grass. They had scientists examine it. Patches here and there were literally saturated with the poison, while the rest was normal and nutritious.

Only these animals which had been turned out to graze in the pasture died, the contractor told the police, so it could not have been anything in their stable food that killed them.

In November, when there were a few mild days, I ordered some of the horses sent to the lot," Dolan said last night. "Two suddenly died. I paid no attention to that occurrence. Then half a dozen more died, and I had the oats and hay examined. That was all right. Then they began to drop off by twos and fours, and—I realize now—it was always after they had been eating the pasture grass."

"Sunday, when I heard that my trotter and four others had gone, I investigated a little. I found that a couple of valuable dogs and more than one hundred chickens belonging to Henry Platon, who has the next place, also had died after being in the lot. Then I called the police and veterinarians."

Dolan declined to say whether he had any enemies who might be suspected of poisoning the grass. The Corona police last night declared that they had a clue tending to show that a man and a woman had sprinkled arsenic in the pasture. But they would not say what this clue was. Neither would the contractor.

Indigestion and Distress

Vanish Five Minutes Later

Every family here ought to keep some Dyppepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50c case of Dyppepsin and take one triangle after supper tonight. There will be no sour risings, no belching of indigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or fatal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Dyppepsin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual, prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist's waiting for you.

These large 50c cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyppepsin or indigestion.

LAWYER BEATTIE PROF. DAPPRICH

Protests Against Fine and a Sentence

CHICAGO, March 2.—Judge Bretano will hear testimony on Friday on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Charles Beattie, an attorney who had been fined $200 and locked up in default of payment by Municipal Judge Blake. After a consultation with the latter concerning the trial of a case Beattie is said to have applied this morning to the court.

"You are no more fit to try a case on that bench than a pig," the judge and incarceration followed.

"The point I raise is this," says Beattie. "When I called Judge Blake a pig he had adjourned court and descended from the bench. By that act he had divested himself of all the sacredness that invests the person of the court. He became a private individual and I had as much right to call him a pig as I have to use that term toward any other individual who deserved it. On this point I stand. I stand there as firmly as the pyramids upon their foundations."

CHICAGO, March 2.—One of the jurors chosen in the re-trial of the Standard Oil case before Judge Anderson, says the Record-Herald is Prof. Frederick R. Dapprich, instructor in political economy at the university of Chicago.

The professor was not questioned whether the donations given by John D. Rockefeller to the institution would affect his decision in the case. When asked if he considered the Standard Oil company a monopoly he answered in the affirmative.

Before coming to Chicago he was professor of German at Notre Dame. He is also connected with an advertising agency.

CHICAGO'S RICHEST POLICEMAN DECIDES TO RETIRE

CHICAGO, March 2.—Chicago's richest patrolman, Michael Hasselt, laid aside his star and club yesterday and became a "gentleman of leisure" with an income estimated at from $500 to $1000 a month. For 23 years he has been a member of the force, the last eight years being lookout keeper at the stockyards station.

His inspector says he has been conspicuous for his charity toward the poor of his district. His fortune, which is estimated to be about $150,000, was made through real estate investments extending over many years.

DANGER FROM DISEASED BEEF

In view of the crusade against tuberculosis that has attracted so much attention throughout the state, we do not see how the people interested in it can ignore the alleged fact that Dr. Peters, head of the cattle bureau, has issued permits for the sale of beef from tuberculosis cows. It is generally conceded that this disease can be communicated to humans by the use of milk or beef from tuberculous cattle. A short time ago the state applied tests for tuberculous cattle, and the animals found affected were killed. The authorities in such cases prohibited the use of the beef from such cattle. Now, however, the policy seems to have been changed, and if it be true as alleged, that any state authority has countenanced the use of diseased beef, then it is time the state board of health took steps to protect the public at large from a state of affairs that can scarcely fail to assist in the spread of the white plague throughout this state in spite of all efforts to check its ravages.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt affects not to be concerned over the criticism hurled at him from various parts of the country, even from his own political party. He points out that Washington and Lincoln were criticized. That is true, but he cannot point out wherein either deserved criticism by showing a persistent propensity to interfere in other people's business and to exceed his authority where his interference was justified. He was too ready to attack people who differed with him on public questions, too ready to strain the provisions of the constitution in order to extend the power of his office. He was too much of a braggart and frequently he dragged the office of president in the mire by going outside his recognized functions to hit somebody who criticized him or his friends, or to sue some newspaper for libel. He seems to believe that he is the only man in the country entitled to absolute freedom of speech, while he attempted to curtail the freedom of the press to an extent never conceived by any of his predecessors. He has been egotistical, imperious and exar like. He has exercised more power during his term as president than any sovereign in the world. Moreover, he used his office and his influence as president to promote the interests of the republican party to an extent never attempted by any previous president. The one redeeming feature of his administration is that he made assaults on the trusts and did something to apply the statutes penalizing the trusts but did nothing to reduce the tariff that fostered the trusts until they defied the power of congress and precipitated a panic out of revenge for prosecution.

With all his faults President Roosevelt had many many points; he exhorted the people to righteousness and to right living. He himself has been held up as a type of the strenuous life, and courageous manhood. He believes in war and in militarism. He advocated a powerful navy to overcome the other powers and compel peace; but this only caused those powers to increase their armaments to the same or a greater extent. He has taken the country so far in that direction that an impression seems to prevail that if we have a great force of battleships and marines the destinies of the nation are secure. He has kept up the cry for a larger navy, while our merchant marine has disappeared from the seas. If anything occurred to cause the withdrawal of English trading vessels from our service our commerce on the sea would be practically suspended. Yet that fact has never appealed to the president's patriotism. The only ships that he seems to have considered essential for the nation's safety are fighting ships and their collars.

When President Roosevelt shall have passed off the scene, and when all his faults, some of which we have mentioned, shall have been forgotten the one feature of his so called "policies" that will be remembered and treasured will be his effort to curb the domination of the trusts to sever the union between the republican party and these aggregations of predatory wealth.

THE SPIRIT THAT HELPS A CITY.

The editor of the Bennington Banner, we surmise, is a man after our own heart. He is standing up for the town in which he lives and assailing the pessimists. He decries the habit of knocking, chronic growing and criticism of everything in general on pretence of bettering conditions. Here is what he says about this practice:

"A town whose citizens have no public spirit is on the way to the cemetery."

"The citizen who will do nothing to help his own town is helping to dig its grave."

"The citizen who grows about his town being the 'worst ever,' is assisting in its burial."

"The business man who will not advertise is driving the horse."

"The citizen who is a chronic grumbler and always pulling back in every public enterprise is throwing bouquets on the grave."

"The citizen who 'knocks' and howls 'hard times' preaches the funeral sermon."

There is the right kind of talk to indulge. The citizen who is everlastingly finding fault is a bore whose grumbling makes everybody who hears him feel blue. Some people are given to the pessimistic mood, and to evil forebodings. They predict misfortunes and rush to meet them.

A business man who goes about the streets knocking the concern by which he is employed is doing what he can to hurt rather than help that concern. The man who knocks his own city either privately or in public print is doing the same thing. The prophets of evil never look upon the bright side, and they are wrong more often than right. Stop the knocking habit and do all you can for the city in which you live by doing your trading at home, by helping along every deserving enterprise. Reserve your criticism for the things that may be considered a public nuisance, that it allowed to go unchecked would result in disaster. There are public shams and humbugs, of course. There always will be, but the pessimist who holds these up as representative types of our citizens is doing our city a grave injustice. We have good and progressive business men; we have public spirited men; we have thriving industries and plenty of room for more; and the coming summer is to bring us more to add in some degree to the enterprises that are eventually to make Lowell greater and more prosperous than she is at present. The city pessimist is a handicap to his place of abode; he is like a dark cloud on the horizon, continually threatening storm; he makes things doubtful instead of cheerful; he is the harbinger of ill luck, failure, calamity, misery and death. He is the most poisonous agency that can infect any city or any town. It is for the good of the community that his pessimistic whine be silenced.

SEEN AND HEARD

The "no-school" was rung only six times, in Lowell, in 1908; involving a loss of three days, in the school year 1907-08, and two days, involving the loss of one day, in the calendar year 1908. The latter number is less than in previous years for which records are available.

Do not dare to be so absorbed in your life, so wrapped up in listening to the sound of your own hurrying wheels, that all this vast pathetic music, made up of the mingled joy and sorrow of your fellowmen, shall not find your heart and claim it and make you rejoice to give yourself for them.

The little man with the green bow tie and double-headed appetite has joined the cat that "never came back." He couldn't understand why a man who ate only two orders of breakfast food, half a pound of steak, an order of lamb and eggs, two cups of coffee and nothing to match; an orange and various other things, should be obliged to pay for two breakfasts.—Boarding House Standard.

It is worth a thousand pounds a year to have the habit of looking on the bright side of things.

Just a little fellow with the tears a'rollin' down.

Feelin' he's the worstest used of enny one in town.

Cryin' he's breakin' his heart an' wants to get out of town.

'Cause he got a kickin' for a thing he never done.

Dry your tears, my lucky lad, an' do yer best to smile.

Things are goin' to straighten out an' righten later.

Reckin' that you'll find, my boy as life you travel through.

You'll get heaps of kickin' for things you never do.

The following, having to do with industrial work in the schools is from the annual report of the superintendent of schools for 1908.

Several years ago a sixth grade teacher in one of the grammar schools, the Varnum, offered her boys an opportunity to come seat chairs as industrial work to be done while the girls of the room were having a lesson in sewing.

The offer was accepted with an enthusiasm which did not wane while the school year lasted. The boys were seated at their desks and the girls were seated at their sewing machines.

The teacher provided pins and the few tools which were needed, stock ordered by the teacher and paid for by the boys. Progress was slow at first, but interest never flagged, and a good deal of skill and dexterity was shown in the work.

The experiment was, indeed, so complete a success that the work is still continued.

Mr. James L. Molloy, a popular Irish composer, died recently at Hambleton, Bucks, England. He was in his 72nd year. He was a native of Cornelaire, Kings County, and was the son of George Molloy. He was educated at a Catholic college, Dublin, and later at London University, Paris, and Rome.

After completing his education he was admitted to the English bar.

But it is chiefly as a composer of songs that he is best known. He wrote over a hundred of these among which the following are familiar to all lovers of genuine ballad music: "By the River," "Tomorrow Will Be Friday," "The Kerry Dances" and "Love's Old Sweet Song." He also wrote the score for several operettas, one of which, the "Student's Progress," achieved success.

TO ESTABLISH UNIVERSITY CHICAGO, March 2.—What to do with our vice presidents is a question which has been solved by at least one of them for himself. Adelle Stevenson, it was learned yesterday, will retire from law business and come to establish the La Salle Extension university. The La Salle institution claims extension along the lines which have been proved a success by the University of Wisconsin. General Stevenson, it is said, will devote all his energies to this work.

BIG DECREASE

In Gross Earnings of the Pa. Road

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—The annual report of the Pennsylvania Railroad company for the year 1908, made public last night shows a decrease in gross earnings compared with the preceding year of $23,546,722, and a decrease in net earnings of $7,430,297. The gross earnings for 1908, of all lines east and west of Pittsburgh were $724,338,593, operating expenses $203,005,535 and net earnings $70,733,267. There were $324,429,541 tons of freight moved on the entire system, a decrease of 163,381,755. During the year 142,670,779 passengers were carried, a decrease compared with the year 1907 of 10,855,192.

Commenting on the figures presented, the report says:

"The industrial depression continued throughout the entire year, and still prevails. Its results are clearly shown in the abnormal decrease both in tariff and revenue. The volume of freight tonnage decreased over 15 per cent, the ton mileage and the gross earnings therefrom show a falling off of about 21 per cent. Passenger traffic shows a reduction of about 10 per cent in mileage and over seven per cent in revenue. This necessitated a drastic reduction in expenses in all departments and compelled the discharge of many thousands of employees and a material decrease in the hours of labor of many of those retained in the service."

"The average rate received for the transportation of passengers was less than 2 cents per mile. There can be no question that the railways are not receiving reasonable compensation for the service performed and for the comforts and facilities furnished the traveling public, in connection therewith, or one sufficient to afford a fair return on the capital invested in this branch of their business."

"It is gratifying to note that a more conservative spirit prevails in both the state and national legislatures in regard to the undue regulation of railroads and that the tendency is to defer further legislation until an opportunity has been afforded to ascertain the practical effect of the laws now in force."

WERE CONVICTED

Jury Finds Three Councilmen Guilty

PITTSBURG, March 2.—After the jury had been out nearly 54 hours a verdict of guilty was returned last night after noon against President of Common Council William Brand and Councilmen John P. Klein and Joseph C. Wasson, charged with conspiracy. Former Bank Pres. W. W. Ramsey, who was indicted jointly with them, was acquitted on the orders of the court and at the request of the district attorney.

The jury, which had been out since Saturday morning, reported its inability to agree yesterday, and was asked that it be discharged, but Judge Roberts Fraser refused and sent the men back to the jury room. A compromise apparently was agreed upon, with a verdict of guilty and a recommendation of mercy.

The three convicted men were charged with having conspired to secure the passage of an ordinance for the paving of certain streets with wooden blocks upon the payment of certain sums of money by a detective, posing as a wood block contractor, and his assistants. Klein and Ramsey had already been convicted of bribery in individual cases. An appeal will be taken by the convicted men.

NO-LICENSE GAIN

Made in Several Bay State Towns

BOSTON, March 2.—Town meetings were held in 153 places throughout the state yesterday and in most cases the annual appropriations were made and officers elected. A few postponed one or the other.

Most noticeable in the license voting were the towns that went dry. Among these were Westboro, a distributing center for much of the liquor shipped to Worcester. The town turned down license by the largest vote in 15 years, 544 to 389.

Middleton, a favorable summer place and which came for many autoists at its leading hotel, voted no license. Greenfield turned down license for the first time in 15 years, and the campaign which started a year ago brought out a vote of 234 against and 233 for license.

Medway kept in the dry column after a hard fight by a margin of 13 votes. Wakefield, where the pony express was the issue and was supported by leading candidates, went dry, but the license cause gained about 150 votes over last year.

Cohasset voted to take the suppression of liquor out of the hands of the police and put it in the hands of the No-License league.

Richmond was so prosperous and with only one paper, that it voted to sell its town property.

Carver voted to discontinue its high school, the town being that most of the students are getting an education in other towns.

In Sharon, Mrs. A. Stone, for 25 years an assessor, was defeated by 15 votes by E. J. Miller.

The town of several offices in Waterbury was so close that a recount will be made.

In many towns the public playgrounds proposition and the act to preserve forest lands were voted on, and generally rejected.

The younger and probably the wealthiest section in the state is Medford, where the rain ran far ahead of that received by any other candidate for office in the town. Young Mitchell is just 21 and a Harvard graduate.

Uncle's Gift to Commissary Steward

NEWPORT, R. I., March 2.—The happiest man in Newport is Chief Commissary Steward Julius Reutemann of the naval training station, who is in charge of the cooking school. He received a registered letter from the attorneys of his late uncle in Switzerland yesterday, who left him $50,000.

Chief Commissary Steward Reutemann was given recently a part of his father's estate and this money he invested in a piano manufactory with other relatives at Curg, Switzerland, and it is accumulating to his satisfaction.

He has less than three years to serve on his present assignment, at the end of which he will have 32 years to his credit, then he will retire and enjoy his legacies.

All hands at the station, upon learning of the steward's good fortune, congratulated him. Despite his new riches Reutemann is just the same as he has always been, a simple married man and has two children to share his good fortune.

WOMAN LAWYER

CAUSED FUROR IN COURT AT WORCESTER

WORCESTER, March 2.—A furor was created in the superior court here yesterday when Sarah J. Hughes of Brookline, having interest in the case of Mary E. C. Carroll vs. Sarah J. Hughes, trustee et al., as she is listed as appearing for the trial calendar, came into the courtroom with her bag of legal papers. She took occasion, after seven pages of the trial calendar had been called, to bring her case on the 13th page of the pamphlets to the attention of Justice Bishop, previous sitting, that it might be marked along on the calendar.

Attorneys John B. Ratigan and Webster Thayer, of counsel for the plaintiff, stopped to positions near Miss Hughes in front of the bench as she made her statements, and Attorney Ratigan informed the court of notice of withdrawal from the case of P. J. McQuaker, an attorney of record on the calendar. The case comes up March 11.

ALIEN OR AMERICAN

WHEN ONE AND WHEN THE OTHER—EXAMPLES

The following is a type of question that is frequently sent into this office:

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 22, 1909.

Editor Lowell Sun:

Will you kindly settle this argument: If a person is born in the United States of foreign parents, should he be called a foreigner or an American? Ours is a Subscriber.

Suppose for example a native of Iceland came to this country and passed the remainder of his life here without being naturalized, he would still be an Icelandic—and would not be an American in any sense, unless he served honorably in the U. S. army and afterwards applied for citizenship. If this same man got married and had children, they would be Icelanders, not Americans unless they got naturalized on arriving at the age fixed by law, which is 21 years. But had the Icelandic got naturalized five years after arriving in the United States he would then be an American and his children born in the United States would be Americans.

The children of Americans born in any other part of the world are still Americans until they forever renounce allegiance to this government.

Of course, it is understood that we apply to the Icelandic here taken as a type of alien applies to aliens generally.

BIG CAUCUS

Chelmsford Polled Over 400 Votes

The biggest vote that Chelmsford ever cast at a caucus was polled last night at the annual citizen's caucus held prior to the town meeting, for 453 voters cast ballots. At the Centre a tree warden contest interested the voters while North Chelmsford was all agog over a contest for selectman and another for assessor. In the selectman contest David F. Small defeated Frank Mallory by a narrow margin while for assessor James P. Dunnigan defeated John E. Harrington by a substantial majority.

The polls opened at 3 p. m. and closed at 9 p. m.

It was found necessary to change two names of candidates for auditor, Walter Perham and Charles Holt, they already serving the town in other capacities, and the names of Winthrop A. Parkhurst and Samuel Naylor were put in their places. J. E. Warren presided at the meeting; P. L. Fletcher was secretary, and there was a large number of tellers. The result of the 453 votes, the largest number ever cast at a caucus in Chelmsford, was as follows:

For selectman and overseers of the poor—Eben S. Adams, 554; John J. Dunn, 322; Charles F. Devine, 324; Wilbur E. Lapham, 322; David P. Small, 236; Frank A. Mallory, 221. The first five men were nominated. For assessor for three years—James P. Dunnigan, 242; John E. Harrington, 175. Dunnigan was nominated. For town clerk—Edward J. Robbins. For town treasurer and collector of taxes for one year—Erwin W. Sweetser, 374.

For auditors for one year, three in number—Samuel Naylor, 238; Winthrop A. Parkhurst, 235; Preston L. Piggott, 342.

For one member of the school committee for three years—Herbert E. Ellis, 334.

Two trustees of Adams Library for three years—Albert H. Davis, 243; A. Heady Park, 326.

Road commissioner for three years—George P. Mansfield, 342.

WOMAN CABBY
BECOMING A THING OF THE PAST IN PARIS.

PARIS, March 2.—The woman cab driver in Paris is on the wane. The days of her popularity as a fast and disappearing in bloom, for Marie Louise Lejan has brought obloquy upon the guild if she reaped momentary glory for herself, by killing a man on the first day she mounted the box.

Mme. Lejan, who appears to have been careless in more ways than one, selected a victim whose relatives are vindictive. They promptly sued the cab company for $100,000. The affair being complicated by the insurance agent's accident of the female cabbie in two of the biggest companies in the city the most distinguished legal talent had been retained to defend her.

The anomaly of this case and humble woman leaping at one bound into the limelight as the central figure of a cause celebre is not the least interesting feature of the case. But it has turned the cab companies against the sex.

Pierre Savoy, a wine merchant, was the man killed by Marie Lejan's cab. In extenuation she pleaded that the horse ran away, and she was unable to pull him up. Whereupon the state attorney's office remarked that people are not to be trusted under their charge. This probably explains why some pupils pass out of the school without knowing nearly so much as they should know.

Thanking you in advance, I remain, Sir, Your obedient servant, J. B. Reader.

The following communication would indicate that some parent has a grievance against some teacher in the High school.

Editor Lowell Sun:
Dear Sir:—Will you kindly allow me a small space in your paper in regard to our school, more especially our High school. When a lesson is given to the class some scholars in that class does not quite understand the teacher's meaning and get when they ask for an explanation, to use a slang term, he or she is sat on. Now what are the fathers of those scholars paying taxes for and sending their children to school for, if not to have things explained to them? I think the teachers who act in this way are not doing their duty to the pupils under their charge. This probably explains why some pupils pass out of the school without knowing nearly so much as they should know.

TH REGIMENT TAFT MADE HERO

Of the Dinner Given by the Philippine Party

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A rush of callers, interrupted for a long while by the afternoon and attendance last night at the special dinner in his honor by the "Taft Philippine expedition," brought President-elect Taft to within two days of his inauguration, with less serious demands on his time than he has had during any day since his landing here from Panama at New Orleans.

Charles Nagel of St. Louis, with Mrs. Nagel are here and paid their respects with Mr. Taft in 1905. The trip and the regiment was given an hour for its handsome passage. Here from New York. He spent some time at the capitol yesterday and also saw Mr. Taft regarding matters which will arise directly after the inauguration. No other members of the Taft cabinet are in Washington. Except Postmaster General Meyer and Secretary Wilson, who are attending to their respective duties in the Roosevelt cabinet.

A federal judgeship in northern Alabama brought to the Boardman residence yesterday afternoon a delegation in congress from that state headed by Representative, Richardson. Mr. Taft MacKinn and Lieut. Col. Frank Lee of the 4th Maryland, the latter a member of the Ancient and Noble Artillery company.

The afternoon and evening were given to sightseeing, and scores of automobiles were seen.

An informal tea, which is a feature at the Boardman afternoon, attracted there yesterday many members of Washington's official and social life.

The Red Cross spirit of conviction which has been the strength of the party, and which is particularly tuned to express the feelings of those who have shared the elevation of the head of the expedition.
